THAT GOLD CRAZE.

Klondyke Discoveries Promise to Start a Fever in London.

MANY EXPERIENCED MEN THERE

A Company Reported Organized in New York With a Capital of $5,000,000 — More Vessels Being Built.

INDIANS ALSO HAVE THE CRAZE

PORT TOWSEND, Wash., July 25.—From a miner who came down from Alaska on the Portland, it is learned that 200 Indians of the Stick tribe were contemplating coming to the coast at the head of Dyea inlet for the purpose of packing freight acroes the divide and rafting it across the lakes and down the Yukon river to the mining field.

If the intention is carried out, Alaska will have a full-fledged Indian war, as the Chilkat tribe has always warned the Sticks and other tribes not to come to the coast to engage in any industries. The work of packing freight over the divide has long been monopolized by the Chilkats.

LONDON, July 25.—Klondyke discoveries promise to start a fever in London as well as New York. The South African successes have educated the Londoner up to the gold fevers, and the agents of the Atlantic Transportation company and other cheap lines tell of many applications from men wishing to go to Alaska.

The new Canadian Trans-Atlantic line is actually hurrying work upon a line of new boats so as to get its share of the rush.

The tremendous number of experienced gold miners in London who have worked in South Africa would make formidable rivals to the amateur American fortune seekers.

Most of the English miners are bound for the Canadian diggings, as they express great confidenee in the English regulations concerning mineral in the discoveries and in the system of policy which the government will be sure to introduce in the districts as soon as any great number of people are there.

SEATTLE, Wash., July 25.—It is authoritatively stated here that ex-Governor J. H. McGraw and General E. M. Carr, who left Seattle Thursday on the steamer Portland for the Klondyke, go as representatives of a New York company with $5,000,000 capital headed by J. Edward Addicks, of Delaware. The company is to complete incorporation in New York on Monday. The western directors are ex-Governor McGraw, General Carr and George B. Kittinger of this city, It is also said Senator John T. Wilson is interested. It is to be incorporated under the name of the Yukon, Carabou, British Columbia Gold Mining Development company, limited. George B. Kittinger. Mr. Addick's confidential manager, will follow McGraw and Carr to the north in a few days. Moran Brothers company, ship builders of this city, to-day secured a contract for the building of three vessels to ply on the Strikine river in Alaska and British Columbia, two stern wheel steamers and a barge. These vessels are to be used in opening a new route to the Klondyke, by the way of Strikine river, the Cassiar mines and the trail now being opened by the Dominion government from Desea Lake in the Cassiar counry to the head waters of the Yukon.

Wash Horse Feed.

If one will wash a feed of oats or corn there will be seen an amount of filth and trash that would astonish the man who thinks he feeds clean grain to his horses Try washing and let the grain dry, or nearly so, before feeding. There are evidences that soaked corn and oats are more profitable, more easily and thoroughly digestible than the same amount of dry food.—Exchange.

Dingley's Rosy Forecast.

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 23.—Chairman Dingley, of the ways and means committee, the author of the tariff bill, dictated this statement in reply to a request for information about what was expected of the new tariff bill:

"The tariff bill in due course of time will furnish adequate revenues to carry on the government and will materially aid in reviving the industries and business of the country.

"The business condition of the country is much better now than prior to the calling of the session. There is greater confidence in the future. There is great relief and satisfaction at the settlement of the tariff question, which enables business men to go forward with full knowledge of the basis on which business is to be conducted.

"The fact that sufficient revenue has been provided to carry on the government after the effect of anticipatory importations has disappeared is of itself a source of increased confidence, and the further fact that in the revision of the tariff duties have been adjusted so as to encourage industries in this country instead of abroad affords sufficient ground for substantial business improvement."

Death of Dr. Noll at Philadelphia.

Wednesday afternoon the sad news reached Bellefonte of the death of Dr. Samuel Edward Noll, at Philadelphia. He was suffering from jaundice and on Tuesday morning was taken to Philadelphia to enter a hospital to undergo an operation. He was accompanied by his brother, J. A. Noll. It seems that the journey was too much for him and he suffered a relapse, dying at 2:00 o'clock.

Dr. Noll is a brother of W. H. Noll, of Pleasant Gap. He was 29 years of age and had been practicing medicine in this place for the past year, and was fast building up a paying practice.

Bitten by a Rattlesnake.

A few days ago a young daughter of Dr. Wilson, postmaster at Hammersley's Forks, was playing in the yard, when suddenly she ran to her mother and exclaimed that a bee had stung her. The puncture was in the fleshy part of the hand. Immediately the hand and arm began swelling and it was not long before the arm was swollen very much larger than its usual size. When the father returned from a visit he pronounced the "sting" a snakebite, and at once placed the child's hand in a pail of buttermilk. He kept it in the pail for some time when the swelling went down. The child was reported as being all right Monday. The child, in answer to her father's interrogatories, stated that the "bee" "wattled" when it bit her.—Lock Haven Democrat.

WEST VIRGINIA MINERS

Despite of Debs They Go on in the Even Tenor of Their Way.

SEEM TO BE WILLING TO WORK

An Injunction Issued but Not Yet Served and It May Not Be—Most of the Organizers Are in Wheeling.

ADVICES FROM OTHER PLACES

WHEELING, W. Va., July 26.—Eugene Debs made his appearance in Wheeling this afternoon and was met by a large crowd at the railroad station. To-night he addressed a mass meeting in the central part of the city. The efforts to secure the public building square for the meeting failed and the meeting took place a square away.

In speaking of the situation in the Fairmount coal fields, Debs said he felt encouraged. A number of men joined the strikers there on Sunday and others are expected to follow. He says the efforts of the organizers would have been more successful but for the fact that the operators, as he claims, prevented their men from attending the meetings. Practical slavery, he says, exists in the Fairmount mining region.

"Although the press may report the miners as living under favorable conditions in the Fairmount region," said Debs, "I have collected data from farmers, miners and store keepers which shows that the mining companies cheat their employes in the mines, at the scales and in the company store. The intimidation practiced by the operators has prevented many from joining the strike but we are hopeful of ultimate success in West Virginia."

FAIRMOUNT, W. V., July 26.—A mass meeting was announced for to-night at New England, but none was held because only 23 miners had gathered. The injunction issued by Special Judge Mason to-day seems to have put an end to the strike here. With all the leaders at Wheeling the men say there is nothing left them to do but to go to work. Fully 100 men took this step at Monongah to-day which, with 80 men imported from the Connellsville region, makes 180 men at work there. The injunction issued to-day has not as yet been served and the operators think this step will be unnecessary. It is said many miners want to go back to work and that this step will be taken to-morrow.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., July 26.—Commissioners Conner and Tehune, appointed by Governor Mount to visit the Indiana coal fields and report on the condition of the miners, submitted their conclusions to-day. They find that about 8,000 miners and families will need assistance if the present conditions continue. They suggest that the prosperous people of Indiana should give the subject their thought. Operators are quoted to the effect that they are responsible for low wages and the condition of the miners, for they have forced down prices under the stress of competition which in turn has driven them to it. The report calls attention to the fact that no lawlessness exists and that there are no signs of an unruly spirit.

The governor has decided to issue an appeal suggesting some kind of a reasonable relief for the striking miners and their families.

PITTSBURG, July 26.—Col. W. P. Rend, the Chicago operator, arrived in the city to-day. While he heartily favors arbitration, he says the uniformity movement is a humbug. If the meeting to-morrow is not for the purpose of settling the strike by arbitration he will not attend, as he will not lend his support to a plan to bring about a settlement when uniformity is established.

Operator James W. Shields voiced similar sentiment and declared that he would not participate in the uniformity movement.

Fire at Potter's Mills.

The general store at Potter's Mills, owned by P. P. Long, of Spring Mills, was destroyed by fire early Saturday morning, July 24th. The blaze started in the rear end of the building and it is supposed was set on fire by tramps, who were seen loitering around that neighborhood the evening before. It is apparent, by the rapid progress the fire made on the building, that it was at first oiled by the incendiaries in order to make the attempt a successful one.

The upper part of the store building was occupied by Frank Long and sister, who made their exit by a ladder at the front of the building. They narrowly escaped the flames, which at the time had exclusive control of the first floor. The building was owned by Mrs. Kate M. Carson, who had it insured for $500 in a company of which Grant Hoover is agent. The loss on the stock was $2,500, which is also covered by insurance in one of the mutuals.

Did Not Need A Borough License.

Mr. Goldsmith, agent for Stearn & Co., of Baltimore, was arrested Thursday on a warrant sworn out by Burgess Frank Naginey, for refusing to take out a boro license, under the act of assembly of 1893. The Burgess was represented by District attorney W. J. Singer, while the interests of the defendent were locked after by E. R. Chambers Esq. Mr. Goldsmith was taken before Justice L. A. Schaeffer and given a hearing Thursday evening.

After hearing both sides of the case the squire discharged the defendent. He based his decision, on the decision of Judge Scott, of Northumberland county, in the case against Danville boro, where it was held that the act of assembly of 1893 is unconstitutional. This decision of Judge Scotts was concurred in by Judges Barker, of Cambria and Keler, of Lehigh.

THRONGS FOR ALASKA.

Shipping Clerks Just Now Have Their Hands Full.

EVERYBODY WANTS TO BE MOVING

And Transportation Facilities are the Only Drawback—New Schemes are Daily in Sight for the Tenderfoot.

ARRANGING FOR THE STEAMERS

SAN FRANCISCO, July 27.—The throngs about every shipping office that has even the remotest Alaskan relations have by no means diminished. It would seem that the only circumstance which prevents the wholesale depopulation of San Francisco is the limit to the transportation facilities. Not only stronge men whose broad backs, bronzed faces and work-worn hands tell of previous experience with the labor that literally sweats the brow, but clerks and professional men and women in hundreds are seeking for information or transportation to the land where nuggets are to be had, they think, for the picking up,

Every day sees some new scheme for overcoming the difficulties in the way of reaching the Klondyke and the fleet of steamers and schooners pressed into the service is growing steadily. The latest of the Klondyke Transportation company schemes is being engineered by Captain Herriman, of the firm of Herriman & Mills, who has mapped out a plan for reaching the diggings by the middle of September. He will charter a large sailing vessel and the party will consist of sixty men, each of whom will take one ton of provisions. No one will be permitted to go unless he takes this quantity. Each one will be charged $225 for the trip and Captain Herriman thinks that for this sum he can land them in Dawson City before September 20. The ship will carry a large lighter and a steam launch will be used to tow the lighter from St. Michaels to the Klondyke. After reaching St. Michaels the cargo and passengers will be transferred to the lighter, Captain Herriman will return to San Francisco in the vessel and the party will be conducted to their journey's end by an agent of the firm, who is thoroughly acquainted with the river.

The Alaska Commercial company's steamer Excelsior which leave here to-day, will not make another trip to Alaska before June of next year. All the acommodations to be disposed of for this trip have been sold and the fact well advertised, but would-be passengers continue to throng the company's office. The commercial company not only declines to sell any more tickets, but its representatives will do all in their power to dissuade applicants from making the trip until next year. Some twenty or thirty have endeavored to secure accommodations for the first trip next June. The company declines to bind itself so far ahead, although a number of the applicants were willing to put up a forfeit and agree to abide by any terms the company might make for the year's trip.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 27.—Returned Yukonites deny the story told by Frank Moss, of Great Falls, Mont., to the effect that 2,000 graves at Forty Mile post tell of the terrible sufferings of the gold seekers. F. G. Bowker says that so far from being over 2,000 deaths on the Klondyke during the past three years, there was nobody there to die until somethink less than a year ago and since then there have been three deaths in that whole district so far as known.

In the grave yard at Forty Mile post, which has served for all that section for some years past, there are only between thirty and forty graves.

M. D's In Session.

The annual summer session of the executive committee of the West Branch Medical association was held in the parlors of the Bush House, Thursday afternoon. Those in attendance were:

Drs. R. B. Watson, R. Armstrong, and F. P. Ball of Lock Haven; J. M. Carson, of Chatham Run. S. C. Stewart, of Clearfield; B. H. Detwiler, of Williamsport; E. O. Kane, of Kane; Mary McKay Wenck, of Sunbury; A. Hibler, of Bellefonte and J. Y. Dale of Lemont.

All matters were arranged for the next annual meeting of the association, which will be held in Sunbury, January 18th, 1898.

Prof. H. C. Wood, U. of Pa., and Prof. Roswell Park, of the University of Buffalo, were announced to read papers before the next meeting of the association nd the members of the society who will read papers are: Drs. E. O. Kane, G. F Bell, of Williamsport; J. W, Sheets, of Northumberland, and J. L. Seibert, of Bellefonte.

The territory included in the West Branch society comprises ten counties bordering on the West Branch and its tributaries and all members of these county societies are eligible for membership. The membership is steadily increasing a large attendance is expected in Sunbury, but the physicians of that place must needs bestir themselves if they expect to rival the entertainment given by the Centre county men when the body met here last January. At the close of the meeting the president of the association, gave a luncheon at the Bush House to the members of the executive committee.

Colored Odd Fellows' Picnic.

The second anniversary of Bellefonte Standard Lodge, No. 3575, G. U. O. of O. F., was properly celebrated by a big picnic, held at Hecla Park, Thursday.

On their way to the train the Bellefonte order, together with the Moshannon lodge and headed by the Coleville band, gave a fine parade through the principal streets of the town.

The Peter Stept lodge, of Lock Haven, joined them at the park and the day passed very pleasantly, with a game of base ball, a bicycle race and other amusements. The game of base ball was between Lock Haven and Bellefonte and resulted in a score of 15 to 6 in favor of the latter. The bicycle race was close and very exciting. It was a one mile, open, and was won by Henry Thomas, Lou Mills 2nd, and Will Mills 3rd.

George Freeman, James Shorter and A. C. Pifer were the committee in charge and great credit is due to these gentlemen for the great success of the affair.

Base Ball Saturday.

The Glass Workers, of this place, and the Chainmakers, of Milesburg, crossed bats on the meadow back of the glass factory Saturday afternoon. It required ten innings to decide it and resulted in a victory for the Chainmakers by a score of 12 to 11. The feature of the game was the pitching of Adamson, he striking out 16 men and only giving the Chainmakers one clean hit. Shaughensey pitched the first inning for the Glass Works boys, letting in five runs. The batteries were as follows: Glass Works—Shaughensey, Adamson and Miller. Chain Works—Jones and Weaver.

There will be a game next Saturday afternoon on the same grounds.

Burglars at Curtin Station.

Monday night burglars broke into the ticket office at the station at Curtin's Works, on the Bald Eagle Valley railroad, but secured no money. This is the fifth station burglarized on that line and in no case was any money secured by the burglars.

The members of the Logan Fire company are making big preparations for their annual picnic which will be held this year at Hunters Park, Labor Day, September 1st. It has been arranged to have a big ox roast and barbecue that day, and a man from a distance has been engaged to oversee the affair. A good time is in store for all who attend.

—The ladies of Gregg Post will hold an ice cream festival Saturday July 31st in the post rooms. Every body come.

HE KEPT IT CLEAN.

None of us associated with him in the office felt that we had a right to say anything to him about it. It was his right and privilege to wear what he pleased. As long as it suited him, why should we concern ourselves in the matter.

Truth is, he was becoming more and more genteelly shabby every day, but the careful way in which his shiny coat and frayed trousers were brushed and cared for was evidence that it was not wanton carelessness of his appearance that made him go so shabby. It occurred one day that the weather was exceedingly cold. A regular blizzard was raging, and only those whose business compelled them to be out ventured on the street at all. It was one of Jack's duties as cashier to go to the bank each day, and when the time came for him to make his regular trip, and he slipped on his light overcoat, the head bookkeeper interrupted him:

"I say, Jack, you are not going out in that light coat? Why, man, the very marrow in your bones will freeze."

"Oh, nonsense, old man. I always go this way—dressed warm inside, you know—prefer it that way—not so bulky and clumsy, you know."

And out he went. That night after most of the office force had gone, Mike, the office boy, had to relieve his mind. "I don't think Mr. Jack is dressed warm inside at all. I saw him roll up his sleeves to wash his hands today, and he only had on a thin cotton undershirt. I think he's dead close wid his money, and some day he will be ownin' this institootion."

But we all knew better than this. Jack was in trouble. Why didn't he let us know what it was? Not a man in the office from the manager down to the office boy that would not have extended a helping hand to him, for we all loved him. He was a sterling fellow, always ready to divide on the thirds principle—you take two-thirds and he one. He had formerly been the Beau Brummel of the office, and what the change was that had come over him was worrying us all.

It was finally decided that we would broach the matter to him in a delicate manner. The head bookkeeper being a man of great tact and delicate perceptions, to him was delegated the task. It was some time before the opportunity presented itself. Spring had even opened, and Jack's shiny coat and frayed trousers looked the more shabby in comparison with the bright new spring suits around him. "I never saw clothes so cheap," said one of the junior clerks. "My tailor put this up for $20, and I declare it's quite respectable looking—quite the same thing that I used to pay $35 for." It was just here that something peculiar happened. A big red bottle of ink standing on the desk near the register had evidently become over heated, and, being corked tight, there was nothing for it to do but explode, which it did with a loud report. Unfortunately, just behind it on the wall were hanging all our coats and hats. Poor Jack's shiny coat was bespattered from collar to tail. Poor fellow! He looked dismayed!

We felt sure that next morning we would see Jack again dressed as befitted a man of his position. But we were disappointed. The next morning he came down with the same old coat. The spots gave evidence of having been carefully scrubbed, leaving dirty white spots on the shiny black cloth.

"I say, Jack," said the head bookkeeper, "really you are growing careless of your personal appearance."

"Why, how so, old man? I shave myself with scrupulous regularity every morning. I really didn't know I was looking so unfit."

"It's not that, Jack. I—er—oh, hang it, don't you see that your clothes are kinder runnin' to seed? You need a new outfit, old man. Your tailor will starve."

"I believe you are right, Harry. Fact is, an old suit is so comfortable, you know; kinder conforms to one's curves and angles. Really, I feel like I am discarding an old friend when I give up an old suit; but I must see my tailor. It will never do to offend the artistic eye of my friends. I thank you, old man, for calling my attention to it. Really, a fellow can't see how his own clothes hang."

Mike, the office boy, had a great story to tell the next morning. "What wuz Mr. Jack doin' up in the second-hand district last night? He's out of place up dere. Me an' Skinny Walsh was goin' along, an' I sees Mr. Jack goin' into one o' dem second-hand Sheeney stores. 'Geminy,' I says to Skinny, 'dat's our cashier. He makes more as 200 cases a mont'. What's he doin' in that j"int?' I peeks tru' de window, an' I see him bargain wi' de Shylock for a cheap suit o' store clothes. I cud see him hand over a $10 bill, an' he got change back. 'Christmas,' I says to Skinny, 'but dat's funny. He cud buy a hull tailor shop if he wanted to. I guess dat's de way dese gesers get rich. Let's begin, Skinny.'"

A few mornings after Jack came down with his new suit on. The trousers were carefully creased, and the coat was worn buttoned closely around his rather athletic form. But it took only a casual glance to see that the goods were of the cheapest and had never seen a tailor shop.

"Ah, Jack, you are quite artistic this morning," said the head bookkeeper. "Do you still go to the Fifth avenue tailors? I remember you always said there were no other tailors in the city."

Jack did not reply. He could not tell a wilful falsehood; but, taking off the coat, he turned back the collar and displayed the little tag bearing his old tailor's name. He had cut it out of his old coat and carefully sewed it to the collar of his new purchase.

It was about this time that we began to learn that Jack's frugality did not extend alone to his clothes, but that he had changed his lodgings, which had been of a luxuriant character, to the meanest kind of quarters in a cheap tenement district.

His meals, we learned, were taken at the cheapest restaurants, and the cost of his living must have been inestimably small.

What could it mean? Was Jack becoming a hermit? Was he losing all that fine self-respect and pride that had always characterized him? No. Outwardly he was the same high-bred Jack of old. He came of a good family, and his father had been at the head of one of the largest banking institutions in the city. He died a few years previous, and it was understood that Jack was his only heir, and that he had received not a fortune, but a comfortable competency. We now remembered that it was about the time of his father's death that Jack's habits had undergone a radical change.

I remember how we all envied him when he was supposed to have come into his money; how we speculated as to what he would do with it, but on one point we all agreed—that he would be the same good old Jack, and we would enjoy many of his little suppers and theatre parties. Had he not always treated us in that way at least once a month when he had nothing but his salary? Now that he had come into money we could expect many nice evenings at dear old Jack's expense.

Jack was not well. He did not look well. We all noticed it.

"Take a vacation, old boy," said the head bookkeeper. "You are not yourself. You are working too hard, and not giving yourself recreation enough."

"Could not think of it, old man. Just a little indigestion. Be all right in a day or two."

But he wasn't all right. He looked paler and thinner every day, until one morning he did not come down. We all knew the reason. Nothing but sickness and serious sickness would keep him from the office. It was arranged that we should hunt up his lodgings that night and have him cared for and proper medical attendance secured. We found him in a cheap, small, but clean room. On the table, under the one gaslight, we found two or three sets of books of small concerns that did not employ a regular bookkeeper.

Jack had been doing their work at night.

Jack was in the bed tossing in the delirium of fever.

"I kept it clean, father—I kept it clean!" he mumbled over and over.

Tht doctor shook his head.

"Poorly nourished—nothing to him. Evidently been on short rations. In no condition to with stand this attack of fever.

We explained to the doctor that, although his present environments were needy and poor, he would be paid for the best attention to Jack, and that he must see him regularly and do everything possible to save him. The kindly old doctor assured us that he would receive every attention, but said, with a shake of his head:

"He's in a bad way—brain fever, brought on by worry and fatigue. Evidently he's been burning the candle at both ends."

We secured a nurse who was to be with him every minute and attend to his every want and communicate with us in case he grew worse. As we were preparing to leave the room he raised up in his delirium and threw his arms around wildly. I noticed a paper clutched in one of his hands. I took it from him. The mystery was solved.

"Oh, Jack, you noble work of God, you have kept it clean! God grant that it may not be at the cost of your noble life!"

The paper read as follows:

"TO MY SON—Dying I bequeath you my name. It's stained. I am a thief. No living soul knows it. If I could live awhile longer, I would not die with this stain on my soul. We came of a long race of honorable men, Jack. It's a hard legacy to leave a son, but as you have loved me in life keep my name clean in death. I have kept a strict account of all my peculations. You will find it attached. It's scrupulously correct. No more nor less do I owe the great institution of which I have been the head for so many years. I have kept this account so that I could delude myself into thinking that I was only borrowing from the stockholders. They say all embezzlers do this. Pay it back, Jack, every cent, at 4 per cent interest, and I believe the good Lord will scratch it off his books against my otherwise clean name. God bless and keep you.

YOUR FATHER."

Underneath, written in Jack's own hand, was the following:

"God bless you, father. I've done it. I've paid the last farthing to-day. I've kept your name clean. JACK."

The next day the papers contained accounts of how one of the city's largest banking institutions had received a large sum of money anonymously consigned. The institution had long known of the shortage of this amount, but had no idea who the thief was.

It was weeks before Jack was able to come to the office again. He never knew, and no soul shall ever know from us Jack's secret. He is himself again now, and the little tag on the collar of his fashionable coat was sewed there by his own tailors.—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

MANY SICKENING SIGHTS SEEN

Four Women and Two Men Were Killed by an Explosion, the Reason for Which Seems to Have Been Carelessness.

WHAT THE EXPLOSION LED TO

NEW HAVEN, Conn., July 21.—Four women and two men were killed to-day by an explosion in the loading department at the armory of the Winchester Repeating Arms company. Five others were taken to the hospital badly injured. The dead are:

William F. Baumer, Mrs. Mary Baumiester, Miss Josie Brennan, Miss Ida Brown, Miss Tracy Conroy and William Hill.

The fatally injured are: George Bardorf and Edward Bardorf.

The explosion occurred in the loading room. Employed in this room were 150 hands, two-thirds of them girls or women. Nearly all of the female hands are employed on the loading machines, each of which requires three operators. The full complement of hands was at work in the room when the explosion took place.

Forty feet of the side of the building was blown out and hurled in pieces many feet and fragments of human bodies were scattered in a sickening manner. A hurry call was sent for all available physicians; the fire department, the police, the ambulance and hospital corps were speedily summoned and the work of caring for the dead and injured was begun. Harrowing scenes were enacted as the vast throng congregated about the place. As rapidly as possible the injured were cared for. In two instances the suffering of the wounded was frightful. One was partially disemboweled. As rapidly as a victim was seen to be alive, the mutilated being was tenderly cared for, made as comfortable as possible and conveyed with all possible speed to his home. Two of the bodies had been decapitated. Others had been partially torn asunder, and still others had been dismembered. The officials of the company expended every effort to assist in the work of relief.

Perhaps the saddest scene was enacted when Mr. John Baumeister learned that his wife was among the dead. He lived in Hampden and had but recently married. At the time of the explosion he was at work but a few feet distant from his wife.

The explosion did not cause a fire and the fire department confined its efforts to aiding in the work of relief. The cause of the explosion has not been determined, and perhaps its cause may never be known. Those at work in the room at the time say that it was due to the fact that a cartridge in process of loading had been improperly placed in the machine.

Edward Bardorf died after being taken to the hospital. Ida Brown, one of those killed outright, came from Detroit, Mich, in which city her parents reside.

T. G. Bennett, president of the company, said: "We have been running automatic loading machines for something more than twenty years and this is the first time that any one has been injured in their use. Since the adoption of these machines we have had no accident in the use of black gunpowder."

Mr. Bennett expressed the belief that through the carelessness of the operator or the powder boy the machine that exploded had been overcharged.

Capitol Corner Stone.

HARRISBURG, Pa., July 21.—The corner stone of the old capitol was found Tuesday morning in the southwest corner of the building. It was opened with ceremonies.

The wooden box, with the contents placed in it in 1819, was covered with a sandstone lid, which was removed in the presence of Gov. Hastings, Attorney General McCormick, Secretary of the Commonwealth Reeder and a number of other state officials. Great care was observed in chiseling it from the rest of the corner stone.

The wooden box below it was found to be in a decayed condition and was broken in many places in the effort to get at its contents, which, to the surprise of everybody, consisted of a large bottle about four inches in diameter and nearly eight inches long. It had a large mouth, which was shut with a cork surmounted with a wax state seal, which had worked itself loose.

Outside of the bottle, which was handed over to the Governor, nothing was found. The treasure was ordered to be removed to the State Department by Secretary Reeder, where the contents were removed Tuesday evening. Efforts to secure them without breaking the bottle were unavailing, owing to the materials which were placed in the receptacle to preserve the papers in it from being mutilated by moisture. A large quantity of lampblack, sheet lead and cement were found in addition to historical papers placed in the bottle more than 78 years ago. In the bottle were found the following:

Articles of Confederation and Perpetual Union between the several States. Copy of so much of an Act of the General Assembly of Pennsylvania by which indemnity was made to the heirs of William Penn for their interest in Pennsylvania. Treaty of peace and acknowledgment by Great Britain of the independence of the United States. Constitution of the United States, 1787. Constitution of Pennsylvania, 1890. Acts of the Legislature of Pennsylvania, by which the seat of government was removed from Philadelphia to Lancaster and Harrisburg, and the building of a state capitol at the latter place authorized.

Will Fight the Alien Tax Law.

PHILADELPHIA, July 22.—The Chinese of this city intend to fight to the end against the enforcement of the recently enacted alien tax law of this state, by which every alien is compelled to pay a tax of 3 cents a day while working until such a time as he shall become an American citizen. Rev. Frederick Poole, local missionary to the Chinese has gone to New York to consult with Chung Eng Tze, the Chinese consul as to the best manner in which to fight the law. Missionary Poole and Lee Toy, the "mayor of Chinatown," will carry the matter if necessary to the United States supreme court to settle the principal point whether or not, in the case of Chinamen who are refused citizenship, it is constitutional to tax them because they are not citizens. Preparations are being made to carry into court the case of Toy Lee, a young Chinaman, who is learning the construction of locomotives at Baldwin's locomotive works.

A Very Good Law.

The legislators of Massachusetts have passed a law forbidding the sale and the wearing of birds' bodies and feathers. This is a law that long since should have been enacted in every state in the Union The effect of plume and wing wearing in women's hats within the past ten years has had the effect of nearly exterminating the most beautiful of our plumaged birds, as well as those of other countries. While the law really seems like locking the stable door after the horse has been stolen, it will still have a wholesome effect, and it is much to be hoped that similar enactments will be made in every other state.

THE wonderful extent of the domain of the United States is forcibly illustrated by the fact, that if the entire 70,000,000 of people were settled in Texas that state would not be as densely populated as the German Empire is at present. With a climate suited to the production of nearly every variety of products grown from the soil, and facilities to manufacture commensurate with our productions, who will say the United States does not possess the elements to constitute us the greatest nation on earth.

—Mr. N. F. Braucht, who for the last two years has been clerk in the depot at Coburn, has received a call to be station agent at Wayne station, Clinton county. He moved to that place Wednesday.

Women whose faces are disfigured by unsightly eruptions, pimples and blotches too frequently fail to understand that these are but the outward symptoms of inward disorders. They resort to various cosmetics, ointments and powders, not knowing that all the while the trouble is not in the skin, itself, but in the system. It is sometimes absolutely dangerous to use outward applications, for if the skin alone is cleared, the real disease is likely to attack some internal organ of the body, where it may prove fatal to life itself.

In the majority of cases these unsightly skin diseases are due to two things, weakness and disorders of the distinctly feminine organism, and impurities of the blood caused by them. The woman who suffers from disease in a womanly way will soon suffer in her general health. Her stomach, liver and other organs will fail to perform their proper functions, with the result that the blood becomes impure. Left to herself, she will probably resort to cosmetics and ointments. If she consults a physician he will tell her that the stomach or liver only is at fault. Her distinctly womanly ailment is really the first and only cause. For this she should resort at once to Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It acts directly and only on the delicate and important organs concerned. It makes them strong and well. Then a course of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery will purify and enrich the blood, and make her a new woman. Medicine dealers sell both remedies.

"I cannot say too much for Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription," writes Miss Clara Baird, of Bridgeport, Montgomery Co., Penna., "for the good it did me. If any one doubts this give them my name and address."

Sure, safe and simple ways to cure all manner of skin diseases told in Dr. Pierce's Medical Adviser. For a paper-covered copy send 21 one-cent stamps, to cover mailing only, to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.; cloth binding, 31 stamps.

The Fitting Up of Grace Church.

HARRISBURG, Pa., July 21.—Gov. Hastings said yesterday in defense of the item of $56,590.36 in the general appropriation bill for fitting up Grace church for the use of the legislature that every contractor under the regular schedule of committee bidding was called upon to perform his part of the work at the competitive price under which he received the contract for doing the ordinary work for the state. All the bills were examined, compared and audited by the superintendents of the work, the House Buildings and Grounds committee and the Board of Public Buildings and Grounds before the act was drawn for the appropriation.

The appropriation has not yet been approved and if any citizen knows of any item he will perform a public service, the Governor says, by giving him prompt notice of it. "There are yet ten days before I am required to pass upon it," he adds. "Let the newspaper or the individuals who are finding fault with it come forward and show a dishonest dollar in it and I will smite it like every other steal."

Bellefonte Castle K. G. E.

—The following are the officers of Bellefonte castle, No. 357, of Bellefonte, Pa. for the ensuing six months' term, beginning July 1st, 1897:

Will Connect With Bellefonte.

At a business meeting of the Millheim Electric Telephone Company on last Saturday, Messrs. C. P. Long, of Spring Mill Frank Fisher, of Penn Hall, John Forster, of Aaronsburg, and W. L. Godohart, Millheim, were appointed a committee to meet some of the Bellefonte citizens and look into the matter of extending the telephone line to the county seat. If the proposition of connecting with Bellefonte meets with sufficent encouragement from this end work on the extension of the line will begin at once.

Wonderful Malarial Bitters.

The recommendations of the best chemists and Medical Practitioners assure the public of the purity of Speer's Wines and they are as well assured of the purity of Aunt Rachael's Malarial Bitters, the base of which is this wine only made bitter by herbs and roots among which are Peruvian Bark, Chamomile Flowers, Snake Root, Ginger, etc. It is used daily by the Medical Faculty. Druggists sell the Bitters.

Seasonable Advice to Wheelers.

"The reason the wheel often does as much harm as good," said an experienced bicycle instructor the other day, "is because every woman when she begins overdoes it. A woman should begin by not riding more than five miles in the morning, and less in the afternoon, gradually increasing the distance for four or five weeks, Instead of that, the average woman finds the exercise so delightful that she goes ahead until she is worn out."

A $2400.00 DAMAGE SUIT

Growing Out of the Famous Ettlinger Tragedy.

Last week the firm of Orvis, Bower & Orvis instituted proceedings in three different suits to recover the loss of property by fire at Woodward, in which Wm. R. Ettlinger and family lived. It was on March 5th, 1896, that the memorable murder of constable John Barner occurred at Woodward by Wm. R. Ettlinger, after which he barricaded his house like a fortress and with rifle and explosives defied Sheriff Condo and the public from making an arrest. As a final resort the building was fired and Ettlinger was forced to come out and deliberately committed suicide by shooting himself with a revolver. These incidents are still fresh in the minds of our readers. The property was owned by Mrs. Emma Goodman and she now has determined to recover her loss by legal process. To accomplish it three suits have been instituted. The first is against John P. Condo, sheriff; H. H. Montgomery, Wm. Garis, Jno L. Dunlap, James Cornelly and Jos. Rightnour, sheriff's deputies. The second is against Jno. P. Condo, sheriff; J. B. Heckman, George Gentzel, Geo. W. Jackson and M. L. Rishel, the latter being the sheriff's bondsmen. The third action is against Centre county. The statement has not been filed, but the amount of damages asked for will be about $2400. The former county commissioners had this matter under consideration, but never could reach a settlement, as they claimed the property was purchased for much less than the claim for damages, by the destruction of the building. The former county commissioners never were satisfied that the county was liable and would not act in the matter until the court decided the question as to liability. It is said that Mrs, Goodman paid $750 for the land and buildings thereon. On the other hand the dwelling destroyed was a very substantial building and could not have been replaced for near that sum of money. The present board, no doubt, takes about the same view as to liability, which the court will be asked to determine.—Democrat.

After meals you should have simply a feeling of comfort and satisfaction. You should not feel any special indications that digestions is going on. If you do, you have indigestion, which means not-digestion. This may be the beginning of so many dangerous diseases, that it is best to take it in hand at once and treat it with Shaker Digestive Cordial. For you know that indigestion makes poison, which causes pain and sickness. And that Shaker Digestive Cordial helps digestion and cures indigestion. Shaker Digestive Cordial does this by providing the digestive materials in which the sick stomach is wanting. It also tones up and strengthens the digestive organs and makes them perfectly healthy. This is the rationale of its method of cure, as doctors would say. Sold by druggists, price 10 cents to $1.00 per bottle.

Hotel Improvements.

The carpenters and bricklayers are busily engaged on the addition to Haag's Hotel. Another story is being put on the building by sections, Mr. Wallace, of Milesburg, is directing the brickwork and Messrs Fox and Kerstetter the carpentering. If favorable weather prevails during the entire week they will have most of the work finished. While these improvements are being made, Landlord Keller is hustling about entertaining his guests.

Eighty Per Cent Care Catarrh Subjects.

Dr. Agnew's Catarrhal Powder will cure the worst of them. It has been tested a thousand times and never disappoints. It is pleasant to apply, harmless, and gives such quick relief. One short puff will clear a cold from the head and prevent the possibility of contracting this nasty disease which taints about 80 per cent. of the whole American people. Sold by J. N. & S. Krumrine.

Astonishing.

According to the Christian Endeavorers, San Francisco is the quietest, the most decorous, and the most moral city in the country. Such an announcement will be received with surprise. San Francisco has its charms, but they have never been regarded as pre-eminently those of virtue. Yet who should know what virtue is unless the Christian Endeavorers?

Bryan Going to Mexico.

From the Pittsburg Times.

According to all reports William Jennings Bryan is doing a powerful lot of studying these days. He was reported a short time ago to be contemplating a tour around the world in order that he might store his mind with facts tending to convince his fellow citizens that their salvation lays in 50-cent dollars. Now it is said that he will go to Mexico in order to study and report upon the blessings which the free coinage of silver have conferred upon the people of that country. We do not know how that country will appear to Bryan's eyes, but it is certain that if he goes there he will find the part of the continent which was first colonized by Europeans nearly at the tail end of the procession. He will find a country richly endowed by nature, whose development lags a century or more behind the recently settled territory to the north of it. He will find the lowest wages ever paid in this country or the gold bugs princely compared with what are deemed sufficient there.

He may come back with some sophistical argument to persuade the American workmen that free silver in Mexico is making of that country a paradise, and may be able to show that, because the wages there are 25 cents a day or less, the adoption of the same system of currency here will cause the workers to live in luxury, but he will not succeed in making any sane persons believe it. For, aside from the general knowledge of the subject possessed by every intelligent man, it will be remembered that the workingmen themselves during the last campaign sent their representatives to Mexico and that they reported a condition of affairs that by no means caused those whom they represented to hanker after Mexican conditions. In fact, all through the contest Mexico was a source of weakness. It was too near home and too well known to escape attention, and the conditions there, coupled with the forced admission of Bryan that his scheme would at least temporarily reduce wages, was the cause of the overwhelming majority against him in all the industrial centres of the country.

For Over Fifty Years.

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup has been used for over fifty years by millions of mothers for their children while teething, with perfect success. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, cures wind colic, and is the best remedy for diarrhoea. It will relieve the poor little sufferer immediately. Was It the Supper?

At Monte Carlo a week or two ago the decorous quiet which generally reigns in the Salon d'Or was amusingly ruffled.

While the solemn functions of displaying, mixing, and shuffling the cards which precedes the beginning of the play was being gone through, a gentleman walked up to the tables, deliberately counted out a lot of bank notes, in value $2500, and placed them on the black.

This somewhat unusual occurance of staking the maximum before the play for the day had begun naturally attracted attention, and a bystander remarked:

"Rather bold play, sir."

"Well," said the player, "I dreampt last night that I saw the table exactly as it is now, and on the first coup black won."

The cards being duly cut, the tailleur proceeded, watched by the onlookers with unusual interest, to deal out the cards for the first coup, and black won.

A suppressed "Oh" from the bystanders greeted the announcement, and then from across the table came, in tones of agonized entreaty, a lady's voice:

"What did you have for supper last night? Do tell me!"—Tit-Bits.

Wanted, More Curfew and Less Frolicking Around.

There should be one of two things, viz., an establishment of the curfew or more rigid parental discipline regarding the frolicking around of young people upon the streets of towns and cities after dark, learning more devilment in one hour than home rule, Sunday school, or church can eradicate in six years, and in many instances not at all.

Praise the Spring or Loose Your Character

If there is any one thing in this whole world that Bellefonters pride themselves upon it is the spring which furnishes water for the residents of the place. Nearly every Sunday afternoon about one-half of the people visit the spring and waterworks, just to see if they are still there, and to take a drink of water, although they may not take another drink of water during the week, as the bars of saloons are open every day except Sunday, when they are closed tighter than the vault in the First National bank. Last Sunday evening a gentleman was handed a drink of water out of the spring and was asked how he liked it. He said 'that the water might do to wash with, but as a steady drink it was too thin." There never was but one person before who refused to praise the spring, and the next morning he was found dead, and the verdict of the Coroner's inquest was that he died from dementia. Every person who sees the spring is expected to praise it, if he wants to retrain the esteem of our citizens and live.

Mr. Samuel Rine is the very efficient superintendent of the waterworks, and has held that position for the last 17 years. He has planted flower beds all around the spring, and furnished seats and drinking cups for visitors, which makes it the most pleasant resort in the place. —Bellefonte Correspondent of Williamsport Grit.

A Great Peach Crop.

The prospects for a great peach crop in Clinton county were never better than at present, says the Lock Haven Express, and the luscious fruit will likely be sold this year at reasonable prices on account of the crop being so large.

Peach growers in Nittany valley estimate the crop in that section of the county alone at 6,000 bushels, and there are some who even put their figures as high as 10,000 bushels. It is estimated that the orchards of Dr. Dumm, Brownlee and on the Hayes farm will each yield 1,000 bushels.

The fruit is dropping but little and is free from imperfections of any kind. Reports from all parts of the county indicate a large crop, the trees being fairly breaking down with their loads of peaches.

Queer Tale of Love.

A queer tale of love is that which comes form the sedate and moral town of Titusville. A young married man left his wife and mother in-law to elope with a young woman of the town, and the elopers being without funds, did their traveling by stealing rides on cars and walking. They traveled fully 200 miles through Western Pennsylvania before they were captured. They wandered from town to town and begged food from people along the way. The girl seemed to be quite happy with her illicit "beau" and did not complain of the fatigue. Now the man in the case is in jail and his sweetheart is in the hands of a party of reformers, who will try to win her back to a correct way of living.—Bradford Era.

Bold Robbery in Johnstown.

Joseph Kollenberger, an old man living in the Ninth ward was knocked down and robbed by an unknown man Friday afternoon. A pocketbook containing about $19 was taken. His assailant escaped. Late last evening Chief Frazer and Officer Kelley arrested Mike Lewis, a Pittsburg pugilist, on a charge of being the robber and latter when he was locked up in the Central station Kollenberger identified Lewis as the man who committed the crime. A pocketbook with an imitation $20 note was found in the man's pocket.—Johnstown Democrat.

A Sensational Hearing.

Lock Haven, Pa., July 16.—Paul Koitsch and John cushan were given a hearing this afternoon on the charge of feloniously assaulting and murdering 5. year-old Edna Crider, whose mutilated remains were found near Haneyville last week. The hearing aroused great excitement in the vicinity. The Alderman's office and streets were crowded. The defendants were not represented by counsel. The testimony against Koitsch was circumstantial but damaging, and he was held for court Cushans was held for a further hearing next Friday.

The impertinent editors all over the country are nagging Mr. Bryan because somebody has discovered that he wears silk nightshirts, and somebody else has even asserted that they are adorned with a ruffle. This announcement, however, does not seem to ruffle Mr. Bryan very much, whose sympathy and interest in behalf of the "suffering people" is "fine as silk," especially in view of the fact that it has been a most profitable industry to him.

July Number of Great Pictures.

The July number of GREAT PICTURES is now ready and contains the following beautful pictures.

"Venus." (Saintpierre) a noble figure full of freedom and grace, with an expression of earnest feeling in the widely opened eyes, that gives one the key to a character at once frank and loving.

"Noontide rest, a model," (Caucaunier). Entire unconsciousness of self and absolute innocence are portrayed in this figure. The Salon has never exhibited a painting more charmingly expressive of youth, beauty and innocence.

"Cathedral of Lagos," (W. H. Jackson). This Cathedral dates from as early a day as the end of the sixteenth century, and is a magnificent example of this great Photograper, as is also

"The water gate," presented in this number of great pictures.

Each picture is 11x14 inches in size, fit for a frame. The price is 15 cts. per copy at all book stores or by mail from THE WHITE CITY ART Co., No 611 Manhattan Bldg., Chicago, Ill.

Maryland's Strong Negro Man.

From the Baltimore Sun.

Ellicott, City, July 18.—For a man to stretch himself flat on the ground, face upward, and, with both hands extended, arise without assistance and without touching hands or arms to the ground, is counted something of a feat of strength and agility, but there is a Howard county strong man who can not only do this, but at the same time lift up a man standing on the palms of his hands and weighing 150 pounds. The man is a colored farm hand, employed by Mr. Charles H. Rhine on the farm of State's Attorney McGuire. He is 20 years old and weighs 180 pounds. He is the wonder of the neighborhood. With the entire weight placed on his hands in the way described he can get up and stand erect.

A Very Singular Accident.

Schwenksville, Pa., July 16.—A singular accident happened to Henry B. Wismer, a well known farmer residing near this place. While hauling wheat about a week ago, two small grains lodged in his shoe. They remained there until he retired in the evening, when he noticed two small dents in the instep of his right foot. Several days later blood poisoning set in and for a number of days he suffered intensely. His leg was ordered to be cut off six inches above the knee. This did not bring any relief and his death is expected at any moment.

All the Mines Are Closed.

Brazil, Ind., July 18.—The block coal miners met in mass meeting here yesterday and received reports from points o' the district. The reports were very encouraging. All the mines are closed and the miners are quiet and hopeful of winning the strike. The committee soliciting aid in Indianapolis, made a statement to the meeting of their success. As suffering and distress is rapidly increasing in this locality, the miners decided to appeal to the governor for immediate aid.

A Living Object Lesson for Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure.

HEART DISEASE is curable. "For over forty years," writes Daniel Myers of Two Taverns, Pa., on Aug. 10, 1896, "I suffered with heart disease. First a slight palpitation, gradually growing worse. Then shortness of breath, sleeplessness, smothering sensations and much pain in the region of the heart alarmed me and I consulted a physician. Receiving no benefit I tried others and a number of remedies, spending a large amount of money, but finally became so bad that it was unsafe for me to leave home. I commenced using Dr. Miles' Heart Cure two years ago. For eighteen months I have been well. Although 72 years of age I can go where I wish and I sleep all night and wake up as cheerful as a babe and completely rested."

Dr. Miles Remedies are sold by all druggists under a positive guarantee, first bottle benefits or money refunded. Book on Heart and Nerves sent free to all applicants.

The Golden Star Gold Mining Co., OF MONTANA.

Owning 3 great and rich gold mines offers a small portion of its shares to the investing public at a very low price. The capitalization is very small. Several thousands of dollars have already been expended and over 600 feet of underground work is done on the property, which is rich in gold, copper and some silver. These shares now obtainable at a very low price are the best investment on the financial market to-day and ought to pay at least 10c per share per month dividends in the near future. For reports and prospectus sample of the ore, etc., please address

Scrofula

Face Broke Out With Sores—Weak and Sickly Until Hood's Sarsaparilla Made Him Well.

"My little son was afflicted with scrofula sores and he was weak and sickly. Our physician recommended Hood's Sarsaparilla and I bought a bottle. Before he had taken all of this bottle his face began to break out with sores and one side of his face was nearly all one solid sore. I continued giving him Hood's Sarsaparilla until he had taken two bottles. The sores were then healed and he has been well and hearty ever since." Z. W. SMITH, Big Shanty, Pennsylvania.

"Everything I ate seemed to produce gas in my stomach. I was growing worse and friends advised me to take Hood's Sarsaparilla. When I had taken four bottles I was able to eat and feel no distress. I could attend to my household duties without the fatigue I formerly felt." ADA MCVICKAR, White Hall, Pa.

Call for Republican County Convention.

The Republicans of Centre county will meet at their respective voting places in the several election districts in the county, on Saturday, August 7th, 1897, for the purpose of electing delegates to the county convention. The delegates chosen at that time will meet in convention at the court house, in Bellefonte, on Tuesday, August 10th, 1897, at 11 o'clock a. m., for the purpose of nominating one person for the office of County Surveyor and one person for the office of Jury Commissioner. The said delegates in convention assembled will also elect two delegates to the Republican State Convention, which meets at Harrisburg, on Thursday, August 26th, 1897. They will also elect a county chairman for the year 1898, and transact such other business as may properly come before the convention.

Under the rules of the party the number of delegates to which each precinct is entitled is as follows:

REASONS FOR USING

Walter Baker & Co.'s Breakfast Cocoa.

1. Because it is absolutely pure.
2. Because it is not made by the so-called Dutch Process in which chemicals are used.
3. Because beans of the finest quality are used.
4. Because it is made by a method which preserves unimpaired the exquisite natural flavor and odor of the beans.
5. Because it is the most economical, costing less than one cent a cup.

Be sure that you get the genuine article made by WALTER BAKER & CO. Ltd., Dorchester, Mass. Established 1780.

Japan's Protest Means War.

LONDON, July 27.—The St. James' Gazette, commenting upon Japans' protest in the Hawaiian matter says: "According to European usage it amounts to a threat to resist the transfer of the archipelago by force, and is equivalent to warning the United States that they must give up their views as to Hawaii or prepare for war It does mean so much in the mouth of Japan, though the Americans do not seem to think so. But they have such ideas of diplomatic language that they are no great authorities.

Musical Picnic at Dix Run.

An interesting and well attended musical picnic was held in a grove near the Dix Run church, Saturday, July 24th, by the Port Matilda singing class, under the direction of their teacher, Howard Miles, at which about 500 persons were present.

PERSONAL PENCILINGS

Miss Alta M. Smith, of Philipsburg, who spent the past week at the residence of Newton Spangler, Esq., returned to her home Wednesday.

Mr. H. O. Miller, a member of the faculty of Williamsport Commercial College, spent Tuesday with his friend, W. Harrison Walker.

Miss Mary and Stella Cooney, the bright and accomplished daughters of Mr. Mart Cooney, left Wednesday to spend a few days in Unionville.

Professor Stevens, of Dickinson College, is visiting his father, Rev. W. A. Stevens of this city. Prof. Whiting, of the same institution accompanied him as his guest.

A letter was received by Mrs. Hibler, wife of Dr. Hibler stating, that her brother Miles Osmer, had left Lincoln, Nebraska, and had gone to Los Angles, California.

Mr. Clement Dale, wife and two pretty little children returned last week from Atlantic City and Philadelphia. Mr. Dale after his few days of recreation is again ready for active business.

Prof. Johnsonbaugh, formerly of Bellefonte, but now of Bethlehem is mingling among his many friends in Bellefonte again. Prof. Johnsonbaugh is now principal of the Bethlehem High school, and proved himself to be very successful in the office he holds.

Dr. Donald MacLean Shot.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 24.—Doctor Donald MacLean, Dean of the California Medical College, was shot and seriously wounded on Vanness avenue last evening by Patrick Walsh, a janitor, who subsequently committed suicide.

Dr. MacLean was walking homeward from the college, when he encountered Walsh, who taxed the doctor with having failed to fulfill a promise made some months ago, to aid him in securing the position of janitor at the college. The doctor denied that he was under any obligation to him, whereupon Walsh drew a pistol and shot him three times, producing serious wounds. Walsh then ran, with a crowd in pursuit. After running for several blocks, Walsh put the pistol to his head and blew out his own brains.

No-To-Bac for Fifty Cents.
Guaranteed tobacco habit cure, makes weak men strong, blood pure. 50c. $1. All druggists.

The news from London about the prospect as to an international bimetallic conference is extremely cheering to the friends of true bimetallism. The press dispatches state that the British government has indicated a willingness to co-operate with the United States and France in the holding of an international conference, and it is probable that it will be called to meet in the United States. These are two great points gained. First, the holding of a conference under the auspices of these three great nations will probably insure the co-operation of practically all the leading nations of the earth, and, second, the holding of the conference in the United States will give to the people of this country the detailed information which is developed, in a way which will be of great value.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

(From Our Regular Correspondent.)

WASHINGTON, July 26, 1897.

Hark! Hear the Dingley bell!
Of old man hard times
'Tis ringing the knell;
Sweet music in it chimes.

The Dingley tariff bill has received the signature of President McKinley and is now a law, and the extra session of the Fifty-fifth Congress, having accomplished what it was called together to do, has adjourned, and its members have gone home to hear what their constituents have to say about their work. So far as the republicans are concerned, there is no fear of the people's verdict. They have done a remarkable piece of work, one that many considered impossible, because of the lack of a republican majority in the Senate, when President McKinley first announced his determination to call an extra session to pass a tariff bill. Although there are some things in the Dingley tariff law that would be different if the republicans had had a majority of their own in the Senate, the law is distinctly republican and consequently will protect American industry in all its branches and will, after the first six months of its existance, produce more money than will be needed to run the government, thus enabling President McKinley to resume the republican policy of reducing the country's bonded indebtedness.

If it were possible to make a man like Senator Allen ashamed of anything Senator Foraker's prompt refutation of the charge made by Allen, that the McKinley vote in Ohio last November was increased by fraud, would have had that effect. As it was, Senator Foraker's vigorous prodding and demands for proof and specification of one single fraudulent vote cast in the State of Ohio, at the Presidential election, drove Allen into a corner from which he was glad to escape by yielding to a motion to go into executive session. Senator Foraker made Senator Allen blush when he reminded him that he was the first man to slander his native State (Allen was born in Ohio) by such charges.

The giving away of coupons or certificates for premiums or prizes by the manufacturers of tobacco and cigarettes will have to be stopped, as the practice is prohibited by the Dingley tariff law. Most people will regard this as a step in the right direction. The whole prize business is demoralizing.

Mr. H. M. Dougherty, of the Ohio Republican State Central Committee, was in Washington to see the Dingley bill become a law, and to confer with Ohio republicans in Congress before adjournment. He says their will be a hot campaign in the State this year, but that he regards the election of the republican State ticket and Senator Hanna's return to the Senate, as assured. He says the democrats are merely bluffing when they profess confidence of winning.

The house made quick work of meeting the recommendation of President McKinley for a currency commission. The special message was read just as soon as Speaker Reed had signed the Dingley tariff bill; the committee on Rules reported a special rule giving one hour for the discussion of Representative Stone's bill authorizing the President to appoint a currency commission, which had been previously introduced, and at the close of the one hour's debate the bill was passed. The Senate took no action on the bill. It was not expected that it would.

So general is the interest in the disbarment proceedings against John Wedderburn & Co., charged with fraudulent practices, now being conducted by the U. S. Patent Office, that nearly all of the leading legal and technical journals of the country are represented at the hearings. The Patent Office claims to be able to prove fraud in a number of cases.

Knowing that every day the tariff bill was delayed was costing the country $100,000 or more in duties, the republicans allowed the opposition to do most of the talking in the debate which preceeded the adoption of the conference report. Senator Burrows, who was a member of the conference committee, made a short speech defending the restoration of the $2 duty on white pine lumber, and replying to aspersions cast upon him and incidentally upon the State of Michigan by Senator Pettigrew. He said the lumber schedule was one of the most meritorious of the bill, which would restore to the labor of the country the uncounted millions of which it had been robbed by four years of free trade. The conference report was adopted by a majority of ten, the same majority by which the bill passed the Senate.

Mines in Pennsylvania.

Valuable silver and copper discoveries in the South mountains, in which York county capitalists are interested, were made public in York Friday. The discoveries were made by a Colorado miner of experience, and the yield of copper is said to be unusually rich. Congressman Sulzer, of New York, Edison and other well-known people have been interested in the find and ninety-nine year leases have been secured on properties, on which a rich output is promised.

It is the intention of those interested to organize stock companies and work the mineral land. A representative of the projectors who visited Edison says the wizard will furnish a process which will make the copper mining, which is naturally so, particularly profitable.

Death of a Former Centre Countian.

George Traister, an aged and respected resident of Tyrone, died at 4:00 o'clock Friday afternoon at his home, on Nineteenth street, of Bright's disease, from which he had been a sufferer since last December.

The deceased was born at Hollidaysburg Nov. 30, 1827, and was aged 69 years, 7 months and 23 days. He was a forgeman by occupation and followed that calling throughout most of the years of his life.

After having resided at Tyrone for a long time he removed, about 1879, to Howard, where he worked about ten years, then returning to Tyrone, where he has resided for the past eight years. Latterly he had been employed at G. C. Davison's brick works, but failing health had not permitted him to engage at active labor for some years.

On Feb. 22, 1854, Mr. Traister was united in marriage to Miss Martha Davison. Six children survive this union. They are: Mrs. Henry Harmuth, of St. Louis; Mrs. Rose Loss, of Rock Grove, Ill.; Charles Traister, of Seward, Neb.; Mrs. Ida Bechtel, of Blanchard; Robert Traister, of Howard, and Miss Daisy Traister, who has resided with her father. Mrs. Traister died Nov. 5, 1894.

Mr. Traister was a soldier for the Union in the late war, having enlisted Sept. 17, 1864, in company A, First regiment, light artillery, serving with this regiment until the close of the war, and receiving his discharge June 13, 1865.

The funeral services were held at the late home of the deceased at 1:00 o'clock Sunday afternoon. Rev. W. S. Long conducted the services. Interment in Tyrone cemetery.

The Popular Vote Plan.

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 26.—Senator Quay was asked by the Commercial Gazette correspondent this afternoon if it was true that he had announced that he would submit his name for United States senator to the popular vote at the primaries next year.

"I have not made any such announcement," the senator replied emphatically. Continuing, he said: "I presume however, that plan may be adopted. In the contest between Mr. Dalzell and myself five years ago, it will be remembered, a primary vote was taken. Consequently the same course may be followed next year."

The senator to-day decided upon his plan for the next few days. Mrs. Quay left to-night for her home in Beaver, while the senator, accompanied by Senator Penrose left for Philadelphia, where he will have a conference to-night and to-morrow with his friends relating to local politics. On Wednesday the two senators will go to Atlantic City for a short stay. Senator Quay does not expect to remain there more than three or four days, and will then go to Beaver, Senator Penrose expects to remain for a couple of weeks.

St. Thomas and Its Dependencies.

From the New York Evening Sun.

By the purchase of the Danish Islands we would secure a proper and much-needed naval station in the West Indies.—Republican Platform, adopted at St. Louis, 1896.

The island and harbor of St. Thomas, the principal of the Danish West India islands, are the natural entrepot for a leading part of West India trade. The harbor is one of the finest, with thirty-five feet depth of water. St. Thomas held the position at the close of the American civil war. At that time a spirit of true statesmanship was exhibited in Washington by the successful negotiation of a treaty for its purchase from Denmark. The measure was defeated by the chairman of a Senate committee for the time being, who to gratify a personal spite, pigeon-holed it. The motive was matter of common knowledge, but the puerile principal of Senatorial courtesy permitted the country to be placed in a false and discreditable position. The treaty negotiated by the executive department of the government was never acted upon. Viewed from the lowest standpoint, the commercial one, an excellent bargain was thrown away. St. Thomas was once covered with sugar plantations, and would be again under the American flag. To Denmark the islands have long been a source of expense in maintaining a crown form of government. She is willing to be rid of them and would to-day no doubt accept a sum of $5,000,000 for them—the cost of a single battle-ship or the equivalent of ten days' pension payments.

Y. M. C. A. Work as Viewed by Prominent Men.

The works of the young Men's Christian Association is highly commended by the testimony of prominent business men of church and state as given below:

Hon. William McKinley says:

"I congratulate you on your splendid cause, the holiest cause in which man ever engaged, and also upon the progress you have made. I bid you Godspeed. Your Association not only leads to Christian life but to good citizenship."

Mr. Cornelius Vandebilt:

"In all the large fields of Christian, educational, or benevolent endeavor, I know of no agency which for the persons immediately concerned, and for the services they render to the public in the safety of life and property, accomplishes so much as the Railroad Branch of the Young Men's Christian Association."

Rev. Theodore L. Cuyler, D. D.:

"For thirty-five years I have been actively associated with the Young Men's Christian Associations. Every year deepens my impression of their immense importance, and of the value of their work."

Fun.

In a couple of weeks everybody will be turning Philadelphiaward to the Meet and then the old town will wake up and snap, you see if it don't. Ever see a League Meet? Well if you ever get in one you will know it. There are more pounds to the square inch of fun in a wheelman, when you get him together, than you ever saw or heard of. Such pranks you never saw. All the old and staid wheelmen go to League Meets, just to be boys again, and then they are. They just disguise themselves in golf stockings and jolly looking cap and sail in. Don't come to a League Meet if you don't want a good time, you cant keep it, you have to have it.

Fatal Boiler Explosion.

PUNXSUTAWNEY, Pa., July 25.—A boiler explosion last evening in the lumber mill of Kipp & Kiser, at Cortez, killed Pete Duff and seriously injured ten others. The mill is badly wrecked. A fourteen foot piece of boiler was blown 400 feet. Two hundred men will be thrown out of work.

Early to Bed.

Early to bed and early to rise makes girls healthy, pretty and wise. The same is true of women, especially nervous women. Each hour's sleep before midnight is worth two hours' sleep after midnight. Sleep is a great medicine. Sleep can not be bought at any price. Drug sleep is worse than no sleep. Sleeplessness means irregular circulation of the blood. With too much or too little blood in the brain no one can sleep. Pe-ru-na regulates the circulation of the blood, and thus produces healthy natural sleep. Mrs. E. Riker, of Cedar Falls, Ia., in writing of the benefits of Peru-na which she had received said: "And such sweet, refreshing sleep! I often tell my husband that if the house was carried away with me in it I would not know anything about it."

Ladies, write to Dr. Hartman, of Columbus, Ohio, for his latest book, written for women only.

A BRANT HOUSE ECHO.

The Proprietor of the Well Known Hostlery Ventures an Opinion.

Mr. H. C. Yeager is the popular host of the Brant House at the corner of Allegheny and Bishop Streets. Complaining of his back one day to Mr. M. Cunningham, he of local and foreign pavement fame, "Mine Host" was advised to try the old Quaker remedy. He took the contractors advice and procured the first box of Doan's Kidney Pills at Green's Pharmacy. This is what he has to say about it. "My kidneys have been faulty for years. I have read a great deal about how the organs work, what is good for them and what is bad for them. Experience is a great teacher and I have had my share. A friend advised me to try Doan's Kidney Pills. I got a box. It helped me so much that I got a second and I am stil using them. It is rather a difficult job to cure a man whose blood is saturated with uric acid, who has rheumatism and urinary disorder due to weak kidneys and bladder and who has become a chronic victim. Still in spite of it all, Doan's Kidney Pills have helped me. I am much better in every way and it is quite possible if I persist in the treatment as I intend doing I may be eventually cured. If I continue to progress as I have in the past that will be the ultime end. I can recommend Doan's Kidney Pills for kidney trouble."

Wheelmen.

Don't forget the good time you are missing if you dont go to the National Meet of the League of American Wheelmen, a chance in a lifetime. Train leaves 7:20 a. m. from Central depot over the Reading railroad. Fare only $5.75 less than nine-tenths of a cent per mile.

—President McKinley has the satisfaction of signing the new tariff measure in a less time after his inauguration than was ever the case since Washington, and has also the further satisfation of knowing that the bill is more acceptable to the people than any which this generation has seen.

Shells as Money.

The relative value of cowry money varies. In British India and Siam about 4,000 pass for a shilling. The ordinary gradation in Central and Western Africa, the true home of cowry-trading, is as follows: Forty cowries make a string; two and one-half strings equal a penny; fifty strings a head, and ten heads one bag. A bag of 20,000 cowries just before the founding of the Congo Free State was worth 17s. 6d. English money. Yet this value was not uniform, varying slightly according to locality. Slaves and elephant's tusks, however, have always been settled for in barter, not in cowries. Prints and cotton cloth, iron spikes, and brass wire have proved the most acceptable payments for such articles of merchandise. But with a few exceptions of this kind, which belong to export commerce, cowries have for ages furnished the money medium. Barth, the traveler, tells us that in Mumyoma, Western Africa, the King's revenue was reckoned at 30,000,000 shells, each male adult being assessed so many shells poll-tax, and so many for every slave and pack animal. There was no evading the tax collector either. It was either prompt payment, or else the headsman collected a poll-tax in his fashion, and the victim's property was confiscated.

The establishment of the Congo Free State, with its railways, steamboats, trading-posts, and the opening up of this enormous territory to commerce on a great scale will probably, before many years, exterminate cowry currency in all but the remoter regions. Such money ceases to be of use with the coming of civilized usages.—Round Table.

A Call From Ex-Queen Lil.

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 26.—Queen Liliuokalani paid a visit to the White House to-day and had a short interview with the president. She arrived in town this morning and finding that the president's regular public reception occurred this afternoon, she entered a carriage with Mr. and Mrs. Heleluli and Mr. Palmer and was driven to the White House.

Their cards were sent up and they were requested to wait at one end of the east room, apart from the crowd of callers. This they did, the queen being seated. The president requested that she wait until he had shaken hands with the public and then he had a short talk with her, saying that he regretted the condition of Mrs. McKinley's health alone prevented her from meeting Liliuokalani. The latter is comfortably quartered at the Ebbitt and the length of her stay here has not been determined.

Failure of the Anarchist Rally.

The ludicrous feature of the much advertised rally of anarchists in Haymarket Square on Sunday afternoon means much more than the mere decadence of anarchy in Chicago. The fiasco held under the shadow of the bronze statue of a policeman erected to commemorate the bravery of the officers who lost their lives in the anarchist riot of 1886—was also significant of the waning power of the forces of calamity. It was announced that the meeting would be an exhibition of "the rags and tatters of free Americans." This part of the show, however, failed to materialize. The crowd was orderly and well-dressed, and the speeches were sluggish in thought and tame in utterance. A man who tried to infuse a little animation into the proceedings by circulating copies of the Firebrand in the crowd was promptly arrested and locked up.

This Store Always Warm.

From the Utica Observer.

Many Uticans have noticed in a certain store in the city a coal fire is kept constantly burning. It was particularly noticeable during the intense heat of the past week. The store is said to be very damp, so much so as to cause damage to goods kept in it, and to predispose to rheumatism those employed in it. However that may be, the fire burns.

Good Advice to Women.

Women, on account of the toil and work entailed by their household duties, too often neglect the habit and regularity of their peculiar organism. The result is general and nervous debility, chronic headache, weakness of the back and loins, deficient and delayed menses, etc. The best remedy for all female troubles is Dr. John W. Bull's Pills, a true, uterine tonic and alterative, a mild aperient, and a wonderful invigorator of the stomach and bowels. Dr. John W. Bull's Pills can be bought at all dealers, or from the manufacturers, A. C. Meyer & Co., Baltimore, Md., for 25 cents per box containing sixty pills; trial box, 10 cents. Bear in mind that you ask your dealer for Dr. John W. Bull's Pills and accept no other.

THE LATE IRA C. MITCHELL.

An Interesting Sketch of His Life from Facts Furnished by an Old schoolmate, Mr. Nathan Atwood.

Ira C. Mitchell was born at Howard, Pa., April 16, 1833. His ancestors on his fathers' side were of Scotch-Irish blood and moved from Cumberland county, Pa., in the early part of this century to Belmont county, Ohio. The family were devout Methodists.

His grand-father on his mother's side was James Packer. His maternal grandmother was Charity, daughter of Hezekiah Bye, who was an emigrant from Half Moon township, in this county, to a point near New Lisbon, Ohio. About the same time his father's ancestors went to Belmont county. Both the Packers and the Bye's were of the Quaker persuasion. His Grand-father Packer owned and occupied the farm opposite Howard which is still owned by his decendants and on which the Hon. John A. Woodward now lives. Here was born then Hezekiah Bye, William Fisher, John, Pettie and Sarah Bye Packer. William F. was the last governor of this state before the war of the rebellion. About the year 1820 began the religious movement known as the Disciples of Christ in the southwestern counties of this state. Among the leading actors in which were Thomas Campbell and his son Alexandria, Nathan J. Mitchell, the father of the subject of this sketch, and his two brothers James and David were among the pioneer preachers in this movement. On the 12th of January, 1832, Nathan J. Mitchell was married to Sarah Bye Packer and shortly afterwards settled in the Bald Eagle valley, where he continued to reside till the close of his life in the year 1886. He was a devoted and earnest minister of the gospel and his wife was a helpmate for him. In about 75 years the religious body with which he was connected has grown from a small congregation in Washington county Pa., to be the fifth in the number of its communicants of the protestant denominations in the United States.

Ira C. Mitchell, after finishing a course of reading with his uncle and a life long friend of N. L. Atwood of Lock Haven, he commenced to practice law in Bellefonte about the year 1853. His eminent abilities and pleasing manner and address brought him rapidly into favor, and his prospects were bright for a large and lucrative practice. He however, greatly preferred the profession of his father, and after a very few years abandoned the practice of the law and devoted his life to the ministry of the gospel.

His intimate knowledge of the scriptures eminently fitted him for the work. The government of the church was congregational. His eloquence and ability soon brought him into prominence, and he labored with great zeal and earnestness in Illinois, Iowa, Ohio, Penna., Virginia, West Virginia, Alabama and Prince Edward Island. As a speaker and a writer in this course there are few stood higher in the estimation of the church.

As a speaker he commanded the undivided attention of all hearers by his easy and fluent diction and the clearness of his ideas and his pleasant manner of expressing them. His voice was full and rich, his gestures perfectly easy and natural and he was never known to make the slightest effort at oratorical display.

The last two years of his life were passed in Bellefonte, his earthly remains were disposited in the family cemetery on the the old homestead farm at Howard, where rest the remains of his grandfather and grandmother Packer, his father and mother and other relatives of the family who have gone on before.

His most estimable companion, and other members of his own family who survive him, profit by the instructions of the kind and affectionate husband and father and endure with christian fortitude and submission to the divine will, the heavy affliction that has fallen upon them. They have the warmest and most earnest sympathy of the community.

For earache, put a couple of drops of Thomas' Eclectric Oil on a bit of cotton and place it in the ear. The pain will stop in a few moments. Simple enough, Isn't it?

Secretary Sherman's ringing letter of instructions to Ambassador Hay on the fur-seal question falls like a wet blanket over the penny-a-liners who have been trying to make it appear that Secretary Sherman has passed the stage of his career which fits him for so important a position as the head of the State Department. The vigorous Americanism of that document touches a responsive chord in every American heart except those of the men who have been attacking the McKinley administration through their unfounded and unwarranted assertions as to the failing powers of Secretary Sherman.

Tarheel Intelligence Jolted.

It is told that a young farmer of Western Burke county wrote to the state board of agriculture for information regarding some part of his farm work, and the board replied by a typewritten letter. This made the young farmer mad, he taking the typewritten letter as an insinuation that he could not read "pen and ink writing." He immediately sent the letter back to the department, with a message to them not to send him any more "printed letters;" that he could "read writin' yit."—Morgantown Herald.

G. W. RUMBERGER,
July 26, 1897. Register.

COURT PROCLAMATION—Whereas the Honorable J. G. Love, President Judge of the Court of Common Pleas of the 49th Judicial District, consisting of the county of Centre, and the Honorable Corlis Faulkner, Associate Judge in and for Centre county, having issued their precept, bearing date of 1st day of January, 1897, to me directed for holding a Court of Common Pleas and Orphans' Court, Court of Oyer and Terminer and General Jail Delivery and Quarter Sessions of the Peace in Bellefonte, for the County of Centre and to commence on the 4th Monday of August, being the 23rd day of August, 1897, and to continue two weeks. Notice is hereby given to the coroner, justice of the peace, aldermen and constables of said County of Centre, that they be then and there in their proper persons, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon of the 23rd, with their records, inquisitions, examinations, and their own remembrances to do those things which to their office appertains to be done, and those who are bound in recognizances to prosecute against the prisoners that are or shall be in the jail of Centre county be then and there to prosecute against them as shall be just.

Notice is also hereby given and by virtue the precept of the Judges aforesaid, issued as aforesaid, there will be held a regular court of Common Pleas, for the trial of civil cases, beginning on Monday, August 23rd, 1897 at 10 o'clock, upon which all persons summoned as jurors are required to attend.

Given under my hand, at Bellefonte, the 28th day of July, in the year of our Lord 1897, and the one hundred and twenty-first year of the independence of the United States. W. M. CRONISTER, Sheriff.

A Sufferer Relieved.

A Tale of Suffering and Subsequent Relief.

From the Press, Columbus, Ohio.

One of the many persons in Columbus, Ohio, who have been benefited by the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People is Miss Jerusha McKinney, of 50 South Centre Street. Miss McKinney is well and favorably known, especially in educational circles, as she has been for a number of years a faithful and progressive school teacher.

For some time she has been very ill and the sufferings and tortures endured by her for months have been unusually severe.

The tale of her sufferings and the subsequent relief and final cure which she derived from the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People, aroused considerable agitation among her many friends and others.

A reporter was detailed to obtain a reliable account of this marvelous case, and when he called he found Miss McKinney at her comfortable and cozy home where she cheerfully complied with his request. She said:

"The first indication that I had that anything was radically wrong with me was about three years ago. I suffered the most excruciating pains in different parts of my body and was almost crazed at times. My sleep was disturbed by horrible dreams and I had begun to waste away to almost a shadow. To add to my other afflictions the malady assumed a catarrhal turn and I was soon a victim to that horrible as well as disgusting disease. I consulted the family physician who gave me some kind of a nostrum and I was foolish enough to imagine that it benefited me. I followed the advice of the physicians but noticed no perceptible improvement in my condition and was about to despair of ever becoming a strong and well woman again.

"Some of my lady friends were calling on me one afternoon and before them I happened to mention my troubles, when one of them recommended that I try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People. I had never had any faith in medicines of that kind and paid but little attention to the suggestion. It was not long after this, however, that I again heard the pills highly recommended, by several persons, and then it was that I decided to give them a trial and purchased one box of the pills. I soon began to notice an improvement in my condition and before the whole box had been taken my health was so much improved that I was about ready to begin singing the praises of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People.

"I was not yet thoroughly convinced and decided to wait a while before growing enthusiastic over the results, and had begun on the second box before I was confident that I had at last found a medicine to meet the requirements of my case. I discontinued my calls to the physicians and have left them alone since. I am now as well and strong as I ever was in my life; am entirely free from all pains and never felt better in my life. I eat regularly and sleep like a babe. No more are my slumbers haunted with fearful dreams and when I retire at night I go to sleep at once. I regard Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People as my salvation, and would recommend them to all ladies troubled as I was. The pills are more than what is claimed for them and anyone giving them a trial will soon come to the same conclusion regarding their merits that I have."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People contain all the elements necessary to give new life and richness to the blood and restore shattered nerves. They are sold in boxes (never in loose form by the dozen or hundred) at 50 cents a box, or six boxes for $2.50, and may be had of all druggists or directly by mail from Dr. Williams' Medicine Company, Schenectady, N. Y.

Cushan Held Again.

The following are the latest facts in the Edna Crider murder case and are taken from the Lock Haven Democrat:

John Cushan, who was held for a week last Friday by Alderman Anthony, was given another hearing this afternoon. At the request of the attorneys for the Commonwealth the hearing was continued another week.

While it has been given out that the reason for Paul Koitsch's failure to employ an attorney has been owing to the accused insisting that he was innocent, yet it has leaked out that the defendant's father, after reading the testimony as given at the hearing in all the papers, has arrived at the conclusion that his son is guilty, and that he will not do anything for him.

The elder Koitsch visited his son in jail Wednesday, and had a long talk with his erring boy. This opinion of the elder Koitsch, while it is only based on the circumstantial evidence adduced, yet it shows that he sees that there is a strong case against his son. If the Koitschs' do not employ an attorney it is likely that the court will appoint one to defend him.

Every woman needs Dr. Miles' Pain Pills.

Mrs. Lease's Tiff with Lewelling.

Mrs. Lease was waiting in the office of the railroad board, and while so doing she told this story.

"Lewelling wouldn't have anything to do with me for a long time after I turned my back upon him in representative hall. Of course, I don't blame him. I did treat him shabbily.

"The supreme court had just decided the ouster case in my favor. Lewelling was blue with defeat and, therefore, penitent. A populist convention was in session in representative hall, and there was a sort of a love feast in progress.

"Everybody was feeling good and growing enthusiastic, so Lewelling thought it would be a good time to make up with me.

"I was standing by a window talking with a friend, when Lewelling approached and held out his hand.

"'Let's be friends,' he said. I thought of how Lewelling had persecuted me, and could not forgive him then. I drew back a step, placed my hands behind my back, and said, with all the scorn and contempt I could put into my voice, 'The hand of Douglass is his own.'

"I turned and walked away, leaving Lewelling with his hand still outstretched. It offended him dreadfully, and he did not get over it for a long time.

"But I finally forgave him, and he finally got in good humor."—Topeka Capital.

Struck by a Ton of Slate.

EASTON, Pa., July 23.—A fatal accident occured this morning in Master's slate quarry at Pen Argyl, this county. George Bickford was the victim. He was working at the bottom of the deep hole, when without a moment's warning, a block of slate weighing a ton came crashing down from a "bench" or ledge, forty feet above him, striking him on the head. His skull was crushed and death resulted almost instantly.

'97 L. A. W. Meet.

The value of a League membership ticket will be considerably enhanced during the week of the National Meet, which will be held in Philadelphia August 4 to 7. The big river excursion, which is scheduled for Wednesday evening, the 4th, is a case in point, the entire entertainment on that occasion being free to League members. Special L. A. W. boats will leave Arch street wharf at 15 minute intervals from 5:30 to 7:30 P. M., and the visitors, after being afforded an opportunity of inspecting the entire water front of the city through the medium of a trip up the river, will be taken to Washington park on the Delaware; where a unique and a specially-arranged entertainment is in course of preparation by the management of the well-known down-river resort. Not only will the membership ticket be recognized on the special boats (of which six have been secured), but the committee in charge of the excursion has made arrangements whereby those who find it inconvenient to go with the main body may, upon exhibiting their "open sesame," the League card, take passage direct to Washington Park before or after the hours above mentioned. Transportation will be provided for 20,000, and by special arrangement the visitors will not be compelled to return to the city at any stated time, the League ticket securing passage on any of the regular boats up to midnight.

Another practical answer to the stereotyped question, "What do I get for my $2?" will be had the following evening, Thursday, on the occasion of the "all-night smoker" at The Arena, when the visitor will be afforded an opportunity of enjoying one of those famous functions for which the wheelmen of the Quaker City are famous. From 9:30 A. M. till rosy dawn there will be a "continuous performance," athletic, musical, pugilistic, etc., such as has never been witnessed in this or any other city. There will be tobacco to burn on this occasion. J. M. Burd, the Philadelphia representative of the Drummond Tobacco Company, having donated to the Smoker Committee 100,000 cigarettes, while Buchanan & Lyall have promised to be similarly generous in the matter of smoking tobacco—each man who attends the smoker will be presented with a two-ounce package of the fragrant weed with the compliments of the firm. Pipes will also be furnished free. It will be a "warm session."

The League ticket will come to the front again on the occasion of "Wheelmen's Night," Friday, at Willow Grove, when all L. A. W. members will be allowed to witness the special features which will be provided for their amusement within the track inclosure—fireworks, trick riding, etc—by the management of the famous resort.

League members taking part in any of the numerous runs during the week will travel free of charge over all toll roads. "Rank outsiders" will, of course, be mulcted the usual amount.

Another entertainment is in course of preparation for Saturday night, a midsummer night's fete at Belmont Mansion, in fairmount Park, which will, of course be free to League members. From all of which it is quite apparent that the League membership card will be quite a valuable article during the first week of August next.

Professor Paul Eno, who will lead the monster banjo orchestra, whose performance at the "all-night smoker" on Thursday, August 5, in the Arena, will undoubtedly delight the immense crowd of visitors who will attend that function, has had fully 150 men rehearsing the past month. The Professor is naturally interested in the success of the concert, as the majority of the performers are his pupils.

Burglars Attacked by Fleas.

YONKERS, N. Y., July 23.—The residence of M. C. Roach, of the New York Central and Hudson River railroad, on Highland avenue, has been closed for some time. Yesterday the caretaker found a window open, and, suspecting burglars, went inside. He had not gone far when he was covered with fleas and had to make his escape. He reported the matter to the police, who started to make an investigation, but were also driven out by the fleas.

The board of health was notified and the house was fumigated. The police believe the window was opened by burglars, who were attacked by the fleas and ran away without stealing anything.

Teachers Must not Marry.

A dispatch from Dunbar, Pa., unkindly says: there is one school board in the State that means to prevent its female teachers getting married, if possible, and Dunbar has it. For years the board has had trouble in filling vacancies caused by the marriage of its women pedagogues, and it has finally become so weary of its task that a drastic move was decided upon. The board has adopted this resolution: "Teachers must not make love while employed by the board or during school hours. The violation of this rule will be sufficient cause for dismissal.

Costs 10 Cents.

But worth a dollar a vial—This is the testimony of hundreds who use Dr. Agnew's Liver Pills—They are so sure, so pure, so pleasant and easy acting. The demand for this popular Liver Regulator is so great it is taxing the makers to keep up with them.

STRENGTH OF THE WIND

There Was Much Loss Yesterday in Eastern Pennsylvania.

PORTIONS OF A CITY FLOODED

This Was the One of Brotherly Love, and It Got a Baptism of Water. There Was Plenty of Other Trouble

FARMS SUFFER GREAT DAMAGE

PHILADELPHIA, July 23.—One of the most disastrous wind, hail and rain storms which has visited this section of the country in a long time, swept over Philadelphia and contiguous territory late this afternoon. The storm entered the city from the west and took a north-easterly course, the greater part of the damage being done in West Philadelphia. Houses were unroofed, trees uprooted, cellars flooded. In the outlying districts growing crops were damaged to the extent of thousands of dollars. Corn was cut to ribbons, while tomatoes and cabbage plants were almost totally ruined by the hail. The houses of William Whitley, at Sixty-first and Hamilton streets' were unroofed as were also the West Philadelphia Maennerchor choir structure and half a dozen other dwellings. An entire row of three-story buildings in course of erection at Fifty-second and Vine streets was almost totally demolished. At Bryn Mawr the hail stones were almost as large as hen's eggs and the wind blew a gale, uprooting dozens of trees.

The storm struck the Delaware river this side of Bristol just as the steamboat Columbia was passing up the river. One of her life boats was lifted from the davits as if it was so much paper and carried nearly over to the New Jersey shore.

At Norristown lightning struck the new Trinity church and tore the roof nearly off. Part of the foundation of the big Conshohocken dye house was washed away and the big mill of McFarland Bros. was badly damaged by the bursting of a dam.

By the time the storm reached New Jersey it had diminished in force, but there was still enough wind left to blow several large trees across the Camden and Amboy division of the West Jersey railroad. Reports from Easton, Pa., state that the storm was severe in that section. In some places crops were totally destroyed by hail. In Warren county, just across the Delaware river from Easton, a number of farm houses and barns were struck by lightning. The Hunterdon county peach crop has been almost totally ruined. Trainmen on the Belvidere division of the Pennsylvania railroad and on the Jersey Central say that in all their experience they have never witnessed such a destructive storm.

At Lambertville and Flemington several barns were unroofed and trees were uprooted by the score.

Judge Simonton's Dispensary Ruling

Judge Simonton rules that anybody can sell liquor under the same regulations that govern the dispensary. The man who undertakes to sell liquor under Judge Simonton's decison will likely have a rough and stumpy road to travel. These liquor stores will be required to have written application for liquor, and will be required to conform to all other dispensary laws.

They must shut up at 6 o'clock.

No drinking on the premises will de allowed.

The police will be required to see that no liquor is sold unlawfully.

The dispensary is the only law that has ever given the liquor lement any trouble. They are fighting it with all their determination, but the temperance people will likely yield nothing either to the opponents or the violaters of the law. There seems to be a most gratifying healthy public sentiment in reference to this matter.

The Improved Way.

The old idea of a wife mourning, with tears and seclusion, the death of her husband is much improved upon by the New York woman who executed a hornpipe and ordered wine when informed that her husband had committed suicide.—Chicago Journal.

The oldest bank in the world is said to be the Bank of Naples, in Naples, Italy. The British Consul at that place in his last report furnishes some interesting facts in regard to this institution. According to his report the Bank of Naples was founded in 1539, antedating by 150 years the establishment of the Bank of England. The bank has a considerable capital to which no one advances any claim of ownership.

Cheerful.

If the new tariff deprived our manufacturers of all the incressed export trade which they have won since 1894, it would make up for it three times over by restoring to them the trade which they have lost among their own fellow countrymen. Boston Journal.

Advices from Buenos Ayres state that the Argentine Cabinet has decided to present a bill to the Legislative providing for the raising of a loan of $80,000,000 to pay off the entire external debt of Argentina.

Where Did It Come From?

Coroner Goehrig, of Lycoming county, empanelled a jury to investigate the case of the infant female found below Muncy dam yesterday afternoon. The jury rendered a verdict of death by violent means at the hands of some unknown party.

Three fishermen saw a lard can floating out in the river. They secured the can and found that the lid was tied on with rope. After removing the lid the men found the body of the babe, packed in cotton, in the bottom of the can. The body was dressed, and it is believed that it was about three days' old. The one side of the head disclosed a bruise. The lungs indicated that the child had not been drowned, but that it must have met death by the blow on the head. There is no clue as to who the mother is.

A Valuable watch Recovered.

On Thursday morning, about 8 o'clock Landlord J. N. Neaubaur, of the Brockerhoff house, lost a valuable gold watch in a rather mysterious manner. He left it hanging in a closet up stairs at the hotel, and went out and forgot it. In an hour or so he missed his watch, but on going back found that it had disappeared. Mr. Neaubaur was very much worried over the loss of it, as it was a handsome watch and cost him $165.00 in clean cash. He at once inserted a notice in Thursday's paper, describing the watch, and requesting that it be returned, and a reward would be paid. Nothing was heard from the missing watch until Saturday, when Mr. Neaubaur received a telephone message from the post office, requesting him to come down, that there was a package there for him. On opening the package imagine his surprise and joy, to find the missing watch. It is safe to say Mr. Neaubaur will be more careful in the future.

Two Armies—The Regular and Irregular.

To which would you prefer to belong? The regular, undoubtedly. The irregulars, are, admittedly, the most numerous, but they are in a very undesirable state of no-discipline. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters will soon remedy this want in a disordered liver or bowels. Biliousness manifests itself in yellowness of the skin and eyeballs, sour breath, furred tongue, morning nausea, discomfort in the vicinity of the liver, vertigo and sick headache. Hosts of people suffer thus. These signs of insubordination to the goverence of health, together with an irregular condition of the bowels, are soon regulated by the bitters, which also overcomes malaria, dyspepsia, rheumatism, neuralgia, nervousness and kidney trouble. As a means of checking premature decay, hastening convalescence and migrating the infirmaties of age, the great tonic is without a parallel.

Beehive in a Keyhole.

Recently we tried to open our door with a night-key, but found it would not work. We have heard that this often happens. But such was not the trouble this time. On taking the lock off we found the lock and keyhole filled with what we supposed was mud, but on accusing the children of having filled it with dirt, they said they had seen a bee go into [illegible] several times, and on closer examination we found it to be wax deposited there by the bees, which had hardened and had to be scraped off with a knife.

DR. FISHER'S LOFTY FLIGHT.

A Bird of Freedom Nearly Eloped With Him.

Doctor Fisher, of Zion, is the possessor of a young bald eagle which he is endeavoring to educate, and upon which he sets a great store, and from which he expects to realize great possibilities in the future. One day as the Doctor was fishing on the head waters of Little Fishing creek he saw the young eagle roosting high on a tree, which he climbed and safely brought the bird to the ground, when his real troubles commenced.

He had just completed fastening the young eagle's legs together when he was viciously attacked by the mother bird, and a battle royal commenced. The Doctor is a small man, of light weight, and for a time the battle appeared to be in favor of the mother eagle. The Doctor's clothes were pretty well torn from his body, and he was looking about for a clump of bushes for a retreat from the conflict, when the enraged bird fastened its talons in his hair and rose with him from the ground some twenty feet, when Fisher succeeded in catching on to a limb of a tree to which he held as fast as death to a dead Ethiopian, while the bird in its frantic efforts to rise tore nearly all the hair from the Doctor's scalp. He finally swung himself to the ground and got among the thick laurel, where the large bird could not get at him.

The Doctor remained in his hiding place until dark, suffering excruciating pain, when he crawled out, and gathering up his young eagle started for home, where he arrived nearly exhausted from his terrific combat. It was several days before he recovered and he is now wearing a wig.—Williamsport Gri'.

Preparing for the Tariff.

WASHINGTON, July 22.—The treasury officials have made preparations to put the tariff act into operation immediately upon its receiving the signature of the president. Copies of the bill have been sent to customs officers throughout the country, in anticipation of its passage, and it is expected that all will have reached their destination by the time the bill becomes a law. Collectors also have been instructed to make the changes from the old law to the new, upon receipt of trustworthy information, official or otherwise, that the bill has received the president's approval. Official who have given the pending bill careful scrutiny state that it is exceptionally free from ambiguities and inconsistencies, and little trouble is anticipated in formulating regulations governing its administration.

The calamity shriekers will have to hurry if they expect to get in their shrieks about farm mortgages. Dispatches to that sterling Democratic paper, the New York Sun, say that farmers in allparts of the country are rapidly paying off their mortgaged indebtedness under the advances in prices of wool, grain, and farm prices generally, and that with the probability of good prices of the farm crops now being harvested the indebtedness of farmers of the country will be greatly reduced during the coming year.

The wool producers of the United States are happy and the sugar trust is depressed as a result of the agreement of the House and Senate conferees on the tariff bill. The House rates on wool were restored and the sugar schedule brought within a slight fraction of the House bill, thus depriving the trust of any advantage it seemed likely to obtain under the Senate rates and giving to the wool producers the rates which they were promised when the bill was first framed for the House.

Grape and Bark Bitters for Malaria.

Every one knows the value of the grape as a luscious and healthy fruit, Aunt Rachael's Malarial Bitters is the ultimate of the Grape Juice; in its properties, mildly diuretic, sudorific and tonic. More than seven-eights is the pure juice of the grape, simply made bitter by Peruvian Bark Chamomile Flowers, Snake Root &c., and will cure Malaria Fever if used as directed.

Where Is His Assailant?

PARKERSBURG, W. Va., July 22.—William A. Beatty, the wealthy oil operator, victim of the vengeance of Mrs. Hitchins, who threw vitriol on him three weeks ago, died to-day. His wife left several days ago without seeing him. Mrs. Hitchins is still at large.

—Currency reform is to be the next undertaking of the Republican administration now that the tariff reform is an accomplished fact.

—The farmers in the West are receiving another evidence of the improvement in the business condition, by the freedom at which loans on farm property are offered at rates of interest lower than a ear or two ago.

IN THE COAL DISTRICTS.

There May Be Trouble in the Various Coal Regions.

MATTERS ON A SERIOUS TURN

Allegheny County's Sheriff is Ready for Any Emergency Which May Come Up—His Deputies Are Now Ready.

LEADERS OF MINERS DISCOURAGED

PITTSBURG, July 22.—Excitement was at fever heat in local coal miners' circles to-day. The operators apparently were preparing for a demonstration and before nightfall they were convinced that matters had taken a serious turn. Early in the morning about 500 miners from the Finleyville district marched on the Bunato mines and succeeded in bringing out the men at work.

Sheriff Lowery, of this county, has a force of deputies ready for duty at a moment's notice and trouble is looked for at any time. The deputies are in readiness to go to the mines of the New York and Cleveland Gas Coal company. A march on the Turtle Creek, Plum Creek and Sandy Creek mines is expected at any time. It was learned from reliable authority that such a march was in contemplation, but would not take place until the latter part of the week.

At Canonsburg it was reported that 1,000 men would march to the Cook mines to-night and stay there until the diggers came out. Sheriff Clark, of Washington county, was on hand with a large number of deputies and trouble was expected if the strikers attempted to force the men to quit work.

The miners' leaders continue to work in an effort to persuade the miners in the Connellsville coke region to stop work, but dispatches from Uniontown and Dunbar indicate that they are meeting with poor success. A Uniontown dispatch says the leaders are very much disheartened and admit privately that they have failed to create any strike sympathy.

The Red Stone miners, it is said, will be back next week. Dunbar dispatches say there is very little probability that the coke region will become a factor in the strike. The new state law, to compel coal operators to weigh coal before it is screened and to pay the miners on its basis, is to be tested to its fullest extent, and the whole uniformity agreement hinges on this test. A large number of operators are putting in scales so as to weigh the coal according to the new lay, but others are preparing to fight it.

Among the latter is W. P. DeArmitt, who says the law can be abrogated by the right of private contract and he intends to test it by the contract he has with his men.

Under this contract he agrees to pay his men 54 cents per 2,000 pounds of coal screened over a one half inch screen, with nothing to be paid for except dropping through sand screen. He claims the miner has a right to mine coal to be paid after screening and the operators can also pay the miner in this fashion. A member of the arbitration commission said tonight that the new anti-screening law would cut a figure in the new agreement and the law would be thoroughly tested before it is incorporated in the agreement.

The arbitrators were at work among the Pittsburg operators today and they are trying every means to bring about a meeting of the operators. So far they have been unsuccessful in arranging for a meeting, but it is hoped to accomplish this shortly. Mayor Ford said to-day that he had not consented to call a meeting and that he would not do so, although it had been suggested to him that such a proceeding would be the best thing to do under the circum-tances.

A Wheeling dispatch says the miners at Boggs mines refused to come out when requested by a committee of strikers to do so to-day and arrangements are being made for a demonstration of strikers to morrow. While it is declared to be a peaceful demonstration, another refusal to come out may precipitate rouble.

They Don't Sneeze.

"It was Prof. Schroeder, of Louisville," said a surgeon, "who first ventured the opinion that the negro never sneezed. The statement was made in reply to a question of Prof. Gross, the famous Philadelphia surgeon, and in whose memory a statue was recently dedicated in this city. A smile passed over the listeners, and Prof. Schroeder, observing that there was some doubt about his statement, reiterated it with some force.

"He then explained that while there were no structural arrangements about the breathing apparatus of the colored race that had been discovered which prevented him sneezing, it was a fact that the colored man did not sneeze, though he could be made to sneeze by the use of snuffs, pepper or other irritants. He had, he said, never made any experiments in that connection. He also said his observations had been confined to the colored people in the Southern states. Atmospheric or other conditions might exist elsewhere which might cause him to sneeze, but none existed naturally in the South. The debate on the subject occupied nearly an hour at a meeting of the International Surgery association, which held a convention in the old Lincoln hall some years ago.

"Since then I have often spoken of it and asked my friends to notice, and, though I have directed the attention of hundreds to the subject, I have yet to hear the first one say that they have ever heard a negro man or woman sneeze. I believe that mulattoes sneeze occasionally, and the nearer they are to white the more freequently they sneeze, but even they are less sensitive to influences which produce sneezing than the people of the white race. It has been observed also that Indians sneeze very seldom, while Chinese sneeze ten times as much, even, as the white race."—Washington Post

Lo! He Was a Woman.

Sunbury Daily: A few days ago Poor Director Koble was notified that there was a very sick man in a box car in the upper yard, and knowing that a little medicine would be cheaper than a funeral, he investigated the case.

The charge was removed to the farm below town and the necessary medicine administered. A bath heads the unalterable rules of the place, to which proposition the stranger demurred most radically, but the evidence for the necessity of the job was overwhelming. The patient finally agreed, and while the process of renovation was in progress it was discovered that the supposed man, so dressed when taken in charge, was a buxom woman of about 165 pounds. She was allowed to tarry a day and was then furnished with one of those fabulously low priced July outfits advertised by our merchants, and sent out in the direction of Harrisburg.

On leaving she remarked that if her 3½ cent per yard uniform held out until she reached that city, she would discard it for men's attire again, because dress goods won't go on freight trains. She has been on the "road" for sixteen years and had not washed in that time.

Reformed Reunion.

The grand picnic and reunion of Reformed pastors and their friends, will be held at Island Park, near Sunbury, on Thursday August 5th.

The forenoon of the day will be given to social enjoyments. At 2 o'clock p. m. an interesting program of music and addresses will be carried into effect. The speakers engaged for the occasion are Prof. J. W. Knappenberger, A. M., president of the Allentown College for Women; Rev. J. S. Stahr, D. D., president of Franklin & Marshall college. Lancaster, Pa.; R. J. Spangler Kieffer, D. D., of Hagerstown, Md.; and Rev. F. F. Balmer, D. D., of Waynesboro, Pa. All are invited to attend and have a pleasant "outing-day."

A Preacher and His Critics.

The Rev. Horace Lincoln Jacobs, pastor of the Tyrone Methodist Episcopal church, is also the regular correspondent of the New York Christian Advocate from the Central Peunsylvania conference, and likewise edits a monthly parish paper called Our Report. In the current issue of the latter he indulges in the following remarks:

"To all comers and goers we affirm and hold our unquestionable right as a minister of the Gospel, to whose care are committed many souls, to expose and denounce flagrant iniquity in high and low places, and always, when the moral welfare of our parishioners is involved. And yet, for mentioning in the Advocate of April 15, the visit of a legislative committee to a state institution, (attended by young men of this town, and children of Methodist families, one such being at theat time under our personal pastoral oversight) when our salons set the example of intemperance before the students, thus impressing them that drinking is a virtue in public men, we were assailed by several papers. All of this attacking is intensely interesting and very suggestive."

We do not recall the item in the advocate, nor has any of the criticism to which Mr. Jacobs refers come under our observation. If the fact that a legislative committee drank liquor at a state institution in the presence of the students was merely "mentioned," we do not see where anybody could find ground of complaint. For if it was a proper thing for men to do in presence of boys the mention of it in print should excite no comment. The fact that somebody objected to publicity would be conclusive evidence that conscience was at work. If the conduct of the visiting lawmakers was condemned, we can see how there might be a disposition to strike back.

The Rev. Mr. Jacobs would be quite within the bounds of propriety if he were to publish the names of the public servants who at the inspection of state institution drank liquor in the presence of the students, if such a thing were really done, and he would be doing quite right if he were to include the officers of the institution who must have furnished the liquor and who permttted its use under the circumstances. Fashionable society, we know, holds that drinking at meals is a part of good manners, but the best people in Pennsylvania do not cherish that opinion.—Altoona Tribune.

There is more catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease, and prescribed local remedies and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounce it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co. Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful.

It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case they fail to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

Trout Electrocuted.

On Monday, July 19th, on entering his drug store, Mr. Murray was surprised to find the dozen fine trout in his aquarium "dead as a mackerel." The only theory upon which the death of the fish was caused is by electricity. The ground wire of the telephone line connecting Wolf's store, is fastened to the water pipe which feeds the aquarium, and there being a thunder gust Sunday night, the telephonr line was, no doubt, struck by lightning and the electric current conducted to the aquarium, the shock killing all the trout.

A jar containing a half dozen small gold fish stood in the acquarium, but none of these were hurt, the glass being a non conductor.—Centre Hall Reporter.

Will Take His Summer vacation.

WASHINGTON, July 22.—President McKinley will leave Washington next Wednesday for his summer vacation on Lake Champlain, provided congress adjourns in time to permit it. He will proceed directly to Plattsburg on the west side of the lake, not stopping at any intermediate point if it is possible to avoid so doing. It is the intention of the president to have all official announcements of executive action taken while he is on his vacation made through the regular machinery at Washington, his purpose being to secure relief from the cares of business as far as possible.

School Election in Washingtonville.

The women of Washingtonville, N. J. voted at the school meeting with surprising results recently. Washibgtonville is a part of the school district of North Plainfield. There are two factions, one desiring a larger school house and the other preferring to retain the present inadequate accommodations. Constable George Stewart is the leader of the latter party. At the meeting he expected to have a majority of the men with him. The opposition surprised him by bringing their wives. The law provides that women may vote on school appropriations, and a site for a new school was voted, worth $1,000, and it was decided to build a structure costing $2,000. Stewart and his friends were unable to bring in voters enough to defeat this action. Another meeting will be held next week, at which the vote may be reconsidered. It is reported that every woman in the district will be on hand to vote, and there is some speculation as to whether the decision to purchase a new site and build a new school house will be sustained.

WOMEN AS INSPECTORS.

The women who have been appointed by the Board of Education in New York City as chairman of the Board of Inspectors are as follows: Mrs. Matilda Martin, Third District; Mrs. Henrietta Neylan, First District; Mrs. Phyllis Leveridge, Fifth District; Mrs. Minnie D. Louis, Nineteenth District; Mrs. Clara M. Williams, Twenty-fourth District; Mrs. T. J. Rush, Thirty third District. Of the 174 inspectors, forty-four of them are women.

AN ENTERPRISING TOWN.

The town of Lincoln, six miles from Plainfield, N. J. was established a year ago, and on July 5th its citizens gathered in the Town Hall to organize a local government.

A caucus was called and Silas Drake, the founder of the town, was made Chairman. Mr. Drake was nominated for Mayor and it was determined that there should be four members of the Common Council.

Two of the four had been decided upon, the Rev. J. B. Cleaver and R. P. Bache, when Chairman Drake proposed that women have a voice in the government by having the council divided equally as to sex, and that all the women of the community have a vote at the election. The suggestion was adopted, and the meeting adjourned for half an hour. A Committee of three was appointed by the chairman to inform the women and to bring as many as poseible to the meeting.

In half an hour twenty-seven women joined the men at the Town Hall, and Mr. Drake explained his idea and it was received with much applause on the part of the women. A canvass among the women developed the candidacy of Miss Emma Egel and Mrs. Olivia Hazard for members of the council. They proved acceptable to the men and with a few other nominations the ticket was completed.

The polls were opened immediately afterward. In a total of sixty-one votes, twenty seven were cast by women, and the nominees were declared elected.

Miss Egel is a daughter of Jonathan Egel, a farmer. Mrs. Hazard is about 30, and the wife of George Hazard, an employe in a grain mill.

The experiment in Lincoln will be watched with much interest.

Death From Heat Prostration.

Wallace, a 15-year old son of Levi Murray, dec'd, of Centre Hall, died on Monday, July 19th, from the effects of heat prostration by which the lad was stricken during the hot spell some three weeks ago; intense pain in the head were the first symptoms, his condition becoming worse, until he was obliged to take to his bed about two weeks ago during which time he grew worse and became unconscious remaining thus to his end.—Centre Reporter.

In Honor of Betsey Ross.

A memorial in honor of Betsey Ross who made the first American flag, has long been lacking, and the patriotic public will undoubtedly join heartily in the movement which is now inaugurated by the Patriotic Order Sons of America and the Junior Order United American Mechanics to erect such a memoral, patriots all over the country being requested to lend their aid and support to the plan. This honor to the emory of the good dame Ross would be most appropriate, and Fairmount Park would be a fitting place in which to place the proposed memorial. As the nature of the memorial has not yet been determined upon, a suggestion is not out of order. Why do not these Patriotic societies raise a fund and purchase the house in which the first American flag was made and have it removed to some appropriate spot in the park? No more fitting honor could be paid the memory of Betsy Ross than the preservation of her old homestead for all future generations. A valuable historical edifice, in which the whole nation is interested, would be saved from destruction at the same time by this plan.—From the Philadelphia North American.

Real Warm weather Rest and Comfort.

There is a powder to be shaken into the shoes called Allen's Foot-Ease, invented by Allen S. Olmsted, Le Roy, N. It certainly will cure corns and bunions and relieve instantly sweating, hot or smarting feet. It costs only a quarter, and the inventor will send a sample free to any address,

The Dog Days are Here.

The dog days began Sunday July 11. This season, which we believe lasts six weeks, is regarded by any persons as more unhealthy than that which immediately preceeds or succeeds it, and as being a time when mankind is more liable to attacks from disease through exposure or imprudence in their general habits than any other. If there is no foundation in fact for the belief, it is a superstition of long standing. There are even those who would not for a single moment be regarded as at all superstitious who look upon the dog days as exercising bad influence upon everything. The heat while the dog days last is usually more sultry and oppressive than any other in the summer. Then, too, meats and vegetables are supposed to be in more danger of spoiling from the effects of the weather than at any other. Be this as it may we have now entered upon the dog days and it would be wel for us to be careful in our diet and manner of living.

Cloud Burst at Marsh Creek.

The region of Marsh Creek, a few miles west of Beech Creek, was swept by a cloud-burst Sunday afternoon which did great damage. The rain fell in torrents and the little runs and rivulets tributary to Marsh Creek becam raging streams in a very short time. Bridges were swept away and the public roads rendered impassable by washouts. Grain cut and shocked in the fields was washed away by the flood and the corn fields damaged by washing. It is said to have been the heaviest rain ever known in that locality.—Lock Haven Express

Meeting With Success.

A Terrible Arraignment.

Chancellor Day, of the Syracuse University is responsible for the statement that "The secular and semi religious colleges (of our land) are cursing our sons. Of every five that go to them, three come back infidels, or out of sympathy with the spiritual life of the church." If the statement be correct, and the Chancellor avers he has the facts in his posession to prove the assertion, the good christian people of the country will do well to note fact and great discretion in selecting the institutions that are to mould the characters and destiny of the coming generations. It is a terrible blot upon our institutions of learning.

FARMERS will not manage the affairs of State and nation until they have shown themselves efficent for the emergency. They must fight their own battles and they must fight to win and be prepared to hold the ground they take. One of two Ways.

The bladder was created for one purpose, namely, a receptacle for the urine and as such it is not liable to any form o disease except by one of two ways. The first way is from imperfect action of the kidneys. The second way is from careless local treatment of other diseases.

CHIEF CAUSE.

Unhealthy urine from unhealthy kidneys is the chief cause of bladder troubles. So the womb, like the bladder, was created for one purpose, and if not doctored too much is not liable to weakness or disease, except in rare cases. It is situated back of and very close to the bladder, therefore any pain, disease or inconvenience manifested in the kidneys, back, bladder or urinary passage is often, by mistake, attruted to female weakness or womb trouble of some sort. The error is easily made and may be as easily avoided. To find out correctly, set your urine aside for twenty four hours; a sediment or settling indicates kidney or bladder trouble. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney, and bladder remedy is soon realized. If you need a medicine you should have the best. At druggists fifty cents and one dollar. You may have a sample bottle and pamphlet, both sent free by mail. Mention REPUBLICAN and send your address to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghampton N. DEATH OF IRA C. MITCHELL.

On Sunday afternoon, about 5:00 o'clock, Ira C. Mitchell, an old and highly respected practitioner at the Centre county bar, passed away. While his death was not unexpected, it still was a great shock to the bereaved family and his many friends.

His illness dates back to the late presidential campaign. He was a forceful and eloquent speaker, and his services were constantly in demand by his party, the Democracy. The strain was too much for him, however, and he came home at the end of the campaign with health so broken down that he never fully rallied, but grew constantly worse, until finally, a few weeks ago, he took his bed with what the doctors termed gastric fever. Dr. Locke was the attending physician, but it was finally decided to call in another physician, so Dr. F. P. Smith, of Lock Haven, was sent for. He came, but it was found that Mr. Mitchell was past all medical aid. He gradually grew worse until the end finally came at the above stated time.

Ira C. Mitchell, Esq., was born at Howard, Centre county, April 16th, 1833, and was, therefore, 64 years, 3 months and 9 days old. He received a good education and was admitted to the bar in 1854, and at once took a leading position among the legal fraternity of Centre county. He also studied for the ministry, was ordained and was an eloquent talker and highly successful in evangelistic work. For the past 43 years he has been in active service, most of that time being spent in the practice of the law.

Mr. Mitchell was married three times. His first wife was Melissa Edgar, of Kentucky. One son, Edgar Mitchell, of Lancaster, Pa., survives this marriage. His second wife was Sophia Elliot, of Bradford, Pa., by whom he had one child, Nathan J., now residing in New York city. The third marriage was to Mrs. Mary A. McKibben, of Lock Haven, whose maiden name was Darah. Three children survive this marriage: Charity A., John P. and James A. His step-daughter, Miss Lizzie McKibben, also made her home with him and was loved and respected by him just as much as his own children.

The deceased was a kind neighbor, a faithful husband and a loving father. He was a pleasant, genial gentleman and his memory will last in the hearts of those who knew and loved him for the many excellent traits of character that had endeared him to them while living.

FUNERAL.

The funeral of the late Ira C. Mitchell took place Tuesday a. m. at 11:30 o'clock from his late residence on Spring street. There was a large attendance of sorrowing friends and relatives. The services were conducted by Rev. Wm. Laurie, D. D., of the Presbyterian church.

A very touching address was made by Nathaniel Atwood, of Girard, Pa., an old friend and schoolmate of Mr. Mitchell. Rev. M. S. Blair, of Eagleville, also made a very earnest prayer.

The pall-bearers were Clement Dale, Ellis Orvis, L. A. Schaeffer, D. F. Fortney, M. I. Gardner and John Kline. The Presbyterian choir was present and sang very affectingly the two following pieces: "He Leadeth Me," and "The Home of the Soul."

The remains were taken to Howard on the 1:43 train, where interment was made in the Mitchell family lot at that place.

The Centre County Bar Association attended the funeral and escorted the body to the train, and a committee of ten of the members accompanied the remains to Howard.

The Bar Association held a meeting on Monday to take action in regard to the death of Ira C. Mitchell, Esq. On motion, H. Y. Stitzer, Esq., was chosen chairman, and J. C. Harper, Esq., secretary. On motion of W. C. Heinle, Esq., a committee of five was appointed to draft resolutions and report at the next term of court, the president of this meeting to act as chairman of said committee. The following are the members of the committee: H. Y. Stitzer, Hon. A. O. Furst, Wm. C. Heinle, W. F. Reeder and E. L. Orvis.

On motion of A. A. Dale, Esq., it was agreed that the bar attend the funeral in a body and escort the remains to the depot. On motion of E. L. Death of Mrs. Z. Underwood.

Mrs. Clara J., wife of Mr. Z. Underwood, of East Howard street, died Friday a. m., between the hours of 12 and 1 o'clock. Her death may be said to have been caused by a complication of diseases beginning with a severe attack of la grippe in January last, from which she never fully recovered. Pneumonia and other lung troubles set in and proved more than her already reduced system could stand.

Deceased would have been 38 years old on August 8th, 1897, and was born in Milroy, Pa. She was a daughter of Daniel and Bella Miller, of that place. She leaves seven children to mourn the loss of a kind and affectionate mother. Their names are: Jesse Miller, Maggie Bell, Robert Bruce, Wallace Blaine, William Charles, Frank C. and Martha Blanche.

The funeral of Mrs. Zeph Underwood took place Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock from the residence of her husband on Howard St. There was a large attendance of sorrowing friends and relatives and the floral decorations were profuse and beautiful. Rev. E. E. Hoshour, of the Lutheran church conducted the services. The pall-bearers were all railroad men from the train on which Mr. Underwood is employed.

They were J. H. Burns, A. J. Adams, S. D. Wynn, John M. Fisher and M. A. Rhoades. Interment in the Union cemetery.

Company B At Home.

The soldier boys of the Company B, Fifth regiment arrived home from Conneaut Lake at 8:31, Saturday evening, after an encampment that was noted chiefly for the amount of rain that decended and the persistency with which it hindered nearly every contemplated military evolution. Camp was broken at 7:30 o'clock Friday evening, and the mattresses and camp equipage were conveyed by wagon train to the railroad, where it was found that the cars had not yet arrived. The members of the regiment had to wait until after 1 o'clock in the morning, at which time the tardy train arrived, and soon everything was on board. On either side of the coaches that were assigned to the various companies was a swamp which on account of the wet weather, had changed to a lake from one to three feet deep. The train consequently could be entered only from one end and it took some time to get the men through from the first car to the last one. There was no means of lighting most of the cars and the move ment had to be made in darkness. After the eight companies had been comfortably seated it was found that there was no car for the officers of the field and staff. The only available means of transportation was an old Baltimore and Ohio coach, which was pressed into service after a long wait. The trip from Conneaut to Altoona occupied fifteen hours. The train consisted of eleven passenger coaches, one horse car and six box cars.

Between Conneaut and Butler the railroad tracks were covered with water at one place for a considerable distance, but the troops train went through without a stop.

The conduct of the troops was better this year than ever before, the drum corps especially being on its good behavior.

The regimental evolutions prescribed for inspection drill, fifteen in number, were executed by the Fifth regiment in sixteen minutes.

The boys are confident that B company will take a high rank in the regiment.

A Mother's Darling.

Sympathy is best shown when practically applied. Therefore, when your baby is suffering from summer complaint, diarrhœa, or dysentery, show practical sympathy by giving him Dr. John W. Bull's Baby Syrup. Mrs. R. H. Chappell, Homeville, Va., is very emphatic in her commendation of this wonderful remedy. She says: "I think there is no medicine like Dr. Bull's Baby Syrup for babies. I would as soon think of raising them without bread to eat, as to dispense with Bull's Baby Syrup for them." This efficacious remedy is indispensable to mothers; it is sold by all dealers for only 25 cents a bottle. Take no other preparation, but buy Dr. John W. Bull's Baby Syrup; nothing else can take its place.
